LOS ANGELES, Aug. 26.—The loss in the Huntington Park bank robbery today will exceed $42,000, headquarters of the Los Angeles Trust and Savings bank announced here this afternoon after a careful check had been made.

Twenty-five thousand dollars in cash and $17,000 in liberty bonds and travelers checks are missing.

United Press Leased Wire
LOS ANGELES, Aug. 26.—Five motor bandits, heavily armed, today robbed the Huntington Park branch of the Los Angeles Trust and Savings bank of a sum estimated at over $50,000.

A. Adams, branch manager, was severely injured when he sought to resist the bandits. He was struck down with a clubbed revolver.

The bandits fled southward on Long Beach boulevard toward the beach city. Posses are in pursuit.

The men were described by Adams as being Americans of from twenty-five to thirty-five years of age. All were dressed in dark suits with dark felt hats or caps. They were driving a late model touring car.

Deputy Sheriff Couts and Bell said they were almost certain as to the identities of the men in the party.

"We have been watching some 'bad actors' for the past ten days, on the hunt that they were planning a sudden robbery," said Couts. "They seemed to have worked faster even than we thought they would."

Deputy sheriffs have been posted on every highway in the district. Sheriff Traeger, in personal charge of the search, said that he believed capture of the bandits would materialize any moment and that escape was practically impossible because of the cordon of officers guarding all roads.

CASINO, Newport, R. I., Aug. 26.—Australian pulled out of a deep hole here this afternoon by winning the doubles match from the Japanese, the third match of the final preliminary Davis cup tournament. J. O. Grandmother May Soon Be Dance Teacher; Quadrille Coming Back

CHICAGO, Aug. 26.—They shimmy not; neither do they today.

The debutante will soon be taking dancing lessons from grandmother—the quadrille is coming back.

The latest dances, the society walk and the promenade waltz, are very tame, indeed, and do not disturb one's mental balance or physical equilibrium. Just be natural and you're an up-to-date dancer.

That's what the Association of Dancing masters announced to the public.

"Storage of confiscated liquor and property is now costing the government thousands of dollars daily," Haynes said.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 26.—A reduction of freight rates on compressed cotton in carload lots from $1.50 a hundred pounds to $1.35 from Chicago and points West to Pacific Coast ports for export was announced by the Atchafalaya, Topeka and Santa Fe Railroad company.

Bares International Plot Of Alleged Big Swindling Gang

United Press Leased Wire
CHICAGO, Aug. 26.—Operations of Charles W. French, alleged king of swindlers, went into the half billion class and took on an international aspect today, when his confession before federal authorities, Alvin E. Harshman, French's secretary, revealed plans for the organization of a $500,000,000 concern, through which, he charged, financiers not only in America, but of Canada, England, Mexico and other countries were to be fleeced.

French and his associates were ready to launch the concern when federal agents stepped in and stopped their "game," Harshman said.

"The deal, had it gone through, would have been the most gigantic enterprise, legitimate or otherwise, ever attempted," Assistant District Attorney Cline declared.

Harshman said French conceived the idea but that he, Harshman, put it on paper.

The plan, Harshman declared, was to organize the $500,000,000 concern with American, Canadian, Mexican and English capital, and to take a "flier" at all the big industries. Purchase and operation of big automobile, locomotive, leather, steamship and rubber companies were proposed in the project, he said.

SAILOR CHARGES 12 GIRLERS ON ZR-2 BROKEN BEFORE TEST

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26.—A complete inquiry into charges now being made that experts had declared the giant dirigible ZR-2 unsafe before it ever took the air will be conducted by the navy department in conjunction with the British air ministry, Admiral Moffatt, head of naval aviation, said today.

United Press Leased Wire
NEW YORK, Aug. 26.—Girders of the ZR-2 snapped when the dirigible first was inflated and were never properly replaced, Frank M. Gorey, former chief machinist's mate, U. S. N., and one of the original crew of the airship, declared in a sworn copyrighted statement published in the New York Daily News today.

Gorey alleged that twelve girders out of twenty-five broke. This was at Bedford, while the ship was under construction in 1919. The broken parts were merely spliced, he said.

"We were told and cautioned often to be quiet and left lots of things go by," he said in the statement.

"Going to the movies or any stores where we would speak to the people of Bedford they would say to us, 'The Yanks will never get the ship home.'"

"Workmen would tell us right to our faces that we would never take her home. The people did not want them to sell us the ship for the simple reason that they said we would build them ourselves and 'bupp' England."

WILL TAKE DIRIGIBLE FROM RIVER BOTTOM

HULL, England, Aug. 26.—The entirely submerged fore part of the ZR-2 which fell flaming into the River Humber and sank when the great dirigible broke in two, was found by dredging parties today one-half mile up stream, from where the rear part lies.

A giant crane will be sent to raise the mass of wrecked girders and frame work.

All night long, white flares and searchlights lighted the swiftly-flowing Humber search parties made vain efforts to secure more bodies of the forty-three officers and men who perished in the catastrophe of the ZR-2. The hope of finding other bodies was virtually abandoned.

THREE MORE BODIES ARE TAKEN FROM RUINS

HULL, England, Aug. 26.—Three more bodies were brought up by divers today from the wreckage of the dirigible ZR-2, which fell into the River Humber Wednesday. One of the bodies was that of Alfred L. Loftin of Lake Charles, La., one of the sixteen Americans who perished when the big flying ship plunged to destruction. The other two were remains of British air sailors.

A formal inquest upon the body of Lieutenant Charles Little, U. S. N., of Nubury Port, Mass., was opened here today.

NAME AMERICAN MEMBER IN DISASTER PROBE

LONDON, Aug. 26.—Commander H. T. Dyer has been appointed American representative on the court of inquiry, which will investigate the cause of the ZR-2 disaster.

Railroad Shop Men Reject Federal Board Wage Ruling

United Press Leased Wire
CHICAGO, Aug. 26.—The Federated Shop Crafts, representing 600,000 union railroad shopmen, today refused to accept the order of the United States railroad board regarding overtime and new working rules.

The decision gave the shopmen time and one half over time, but abolished Sunday overtime, except on special occasions.

The refusal followed a three day conference of the American Federation of Labor railroad department and was issued as a formal statement, signed by President B. M. Jewell of the Federated Shop Crafts and seven other union leaders.

A conference will be called, it was stated, to arrange for meetings with railroad executives to ascertain the attitude of the carriers on each rule of the decision which is not acceptable to the men.

In the meantime, according to the announcement, the men are "directed not to become involved in any unauthorized stoppage of work."

"Failure to comply with this instruction will be one act which will defeat the Federated Shop Crafts," it was stated.

SENATOR HOME FROM RUSSIA URGES PACT WITH SOVIET POWER

NEW YORK, Aug. 26.—The United States should establish diplomatic relations with Soviet Russia at once, Senator Joseph I. France, of Maryland, declared today upon his return from a several weeks' visit in the country.

Returning with France on the liner Rotterdam was Mrs. Margaret E. Harrison, a correspondent of the Baltimore Evening Sun who was imprisoned in Russia for ten months, and was the first of the released Americans to reach home after the United States government had effected their freedom.

"I left America three months ago, declaring there should be no delay in resuming trade with Russia," France said.

"I return confirmed in that opinion and believe that we should open diplomatic relations with her. I can see no reason why we should be alarmed over a relationship which obviously holds no terrors for Great Britain or Germany, both of which are doing their best to develop maximum trade with Soviet Russia."

"There is little communism in Russia. Extremist experiments in that line proved unsuccessful and the constructive parties at the head of which Lenin stands were courageous enough to force abandonment of Marxian theories and restoration of certain sound capitalistic policies, which are now in effect."

"I am delighted that the famine relief work by America is getting under way, for this is the first step in my program. I am confident this will be followed by an American trade delegation being sent to Russia under government auspices."

Soldiers To Remain On Rhine Until Treaty Ratified, Word

BY RAYMOND CLAPPER
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, Aug. 26.—American troops will stay on the Rhine until the new treaty with Germany is ratified by both parties, according to authoritative information here today.

Ratification will be considered in the American senate and the German reichstag beginning late in September and should require comparatively short time, it was said here. Pending this ratification, however, the status of relations between Germany and the United States remain exactly where it has been, it was stated.

The United States, by the new treaty, has made clear in exact detail its future international policy.

By the treaty this government washes its hands of any connection with the league of nations, the Shantung award to Japan, the international labor organization and the other provisions obnoxious to the United States senate.

The treaty secures recognition by Germany of American rights under the Knox peace resolution and all the benefits accruing to the United States under the treaty of Versailles, despite the fact that this government has not ratified the latter document.

Official peace with Germany now waits ratification of the new treaty by the American senate and the German reichstag.

Ratification here will be a mere formality, according to the general opinion expressed in official circles, following scrutiny of the treaty provisions.

Final peace is expected in two months.

Report Arrest of Absconding Banker Is Near

DENVER, Aug. 26.—Capture of Edwin F. Morse, former teller at the International Trust company here, whose disappearance, two weeks ago, revealed a shortage of $78,000 in the bank's accounts, is a matter of only a few hours, police here said today.

Morse is believed to be in hiding at a fashionable resort, thirty miles from Los Angeles.

Rewards totalling $5,000 have been offered for the arrest of Morse and Miss Mabel Penfold, who disappeared simultaneously with the bank teller.

Ottawa, Ont., was to get another "big bank," according to Harshman, the other banks and subsidiary offices to be strung across Canada and the United States.

These new arrests were ordered today.

Z. W. Davis, Cleveland millionaire, whose name was found on many notes seized in raids.

Colonel George C. Ball, Los Angeles whose name was mentioned frequently in the files of French.

Mrs. Charles W. French, wife of the promoter, who is now at "Walker ranch," Bostonia, Calif.

IRISH SOLDIERS READY FOR WAR; TO ASK LOAN IN AMERICA

United Press Leased Wire
While the British cabinet met today to consider Sinn Fein's rejection of its peace offer, Eamonn De Valera was re-elected president of the Irish Republic and troops of the Irish Republican army were mobilizing, drilling and making ready for possible war.

The Irish negotiations were advanced a step further by the publication of the text of the Dal's reply to Lloyd George, in which the British terms were rejected.

Whether the next step was peace or war, was the question that today caused anxiety in both England and Ireland.

URGES IRISH TO FIX BASIS FOR SETTLEMENT

LONDON, Aug. 26.—Further negotiations between Britain and Ireland will be futile unless some definite progress is made toward acceptance of a basis of settlement, Premier Lloyd George declared today in a communication to Eamonn De Valera.

Lloyd George, replying to the Sinn Fein refusal to accept the British peace terms, declared he was profoundly disappointed that Ireland failed to recognize the government had gone to the limit to its offer.

The premier said he considered the British proposals completely fulfilled the wish of the Irish people for government with consent of the governed, which, he said, should be the broad guiding principle of the settlement.

Lloyd George's reply was forwarded after the British cabinet meeting at Downing street had thoroughly gone over the Sinn Fein refusal.

He pointed out that no British government could ever accept the Sinn Fein argument that relations between Ireland and the British empire were comparable with those of Holland and Belgium with Germany.

The government, he said, will discuss no settlement which involves Ireland's refusal to accept a free and equal partnership of Ireland and Britain, within the empire, under one sovereign.

He insisted it was essential that some definite and immediate progress be made toward a basis of settlement. Further negotiations, he declared, cannot be prolonged by a mere exchange of notes.

WOULD FIGHT BRITISH WITH AMERICAN CASH

DUBLIN, Aug. 26.—Eamonn De Valera was today formally and unanimously re-elected president of the Irish republic.

The Dal Eireann enthusiastically acclaimed its chief at a public session at the mansion house.

"Great Britain insists upon forcing her will upon Ireland, the responsibility for the war that will follow will rest with the British government," De Valera declared in an address to the Dal.

Promptly at noon the Irish chief, in reply to Lloyd George's offer, saying that the British proposals should be rejected unanimously.

"The door is still wide open," De Valera declared after he had finished.

"Mickey" Collins, minister of finance, told the Dal that it was planned to negotiate loans of one hundred thousand pounds sterling in Ireland and twenty million dollars in America.

After he had read to the Dal his (Continued on page two)

Peasants Cheer Relief Train With Food For Famine Victims

By EDWIN HULLINGER
United Press Staff Correspondent
RIGA, Aug. 26.—The first train bearing American relief administration workers to the famine gripped regions of Russia was speeding on its way today, while other expeditions to Ireland were being rapidly organized here.

It would be impossible to duplicate the sight as hundreds of peasants, Latvian and Russian, clad in picturesque native costumes, crowded about the platform to bid the American relief workers God-speed.

Suddenly there was a commotion. The crowd parted and the brusque business like figure of Carroll, of the A. R. A. hustled down the platform.

Six other members of the relief administration's first detachment, including Harry Finke, of New York, and Vance Elston Turner, who were added at the last moment, appeared, and the time for departure arrived.

Harding Proves Good Loser as Reporter Wins Golfing Trophy

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26.—Warren G. Harding of the Marion Star and present president, reluctantly admitted today that he is not the best golfing reporter in Washington.

That honor is held by Robert J. Bender, manager of the United Press news bureau who carried off the cup in the Washington correspondent's golf tournament played yesterday.

"Bender," Harding said, in presenting the cup, "you have scored a 'beat' and I know how dear that is to the heart of every newspaper man."

SHIPPING BOARD FACES ROW OVER WOODEN VESSELS

Sale of Ships Is Halted As Protest Made By Bidders Over Change
In Sale Contract.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26.—The sale of the 205 wooden ships of the shipping board to the Ship Construction and Trading company on a bid of $2,000 each, has been held up, it was learned today from a high official of the shipping board.

The original bid for the vessels was accepted by the shipping board by resolution and the bidder put up a certified check for $60,000 to bind the deal.

A contract of sale as presented by shipping board attorneys last night is not in conformity with the original sale terms, according to action and Trading company and will not be accepted by them, they have informed the board.

Attorneys for the company have told the board they will go into court to face delivery of the vessels on the original terms of the sale, it was learned.

Miss Robertson Suggests Woman For Arms Meet

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26.—President Harding today endorsed the informal nomination by Miss Alice Robertson, congresswoman from Oklahoma, of Mrs. Mary Chandler Hale, mother of Senator Hale, Maine, as a member of the American delegation to the disarmament conference.

There was no definite indication, however, that a woman would be appointed to the important post. Miss Robertson's nomination came as a surprise, because of the fact that she recently challenged various women's organizations to name a woman for the place.

"LITTLE BOY BANK" EXAMINED BY DOCTORS

BOSTON, August 26.—Here's a little boy who thought he was a savings bank—and now City Hospital doctors are trying to balance his accounts.

Edmund Trotter, 12, lives at 31 Boynton street, Jamaica Plain. He was a sick little boy, but he was a rich little boy, too, for his mother gave him a half dollar to take some medicine.

Edmund took the medicine all right. Then he took the half dollar, also internally.

Advice of Chiefs

MINERS PROPOSED TO SEIZE COUNTY

Bitter War Feared as Citizens Armed to Meet Invasion of Jobless Army

MADISON, W. Va., Aug. 26.—The miners' invasion of Logan county was abandoned late today.

Six members of the advance guard of the invaders listened to the advice of President Frank Kenney, district number seventeen, United Mine Workers of America, here this afternoon and messengers were despatched to the main body of the army at Indian Creek, Big Coal River, Boone county, ordering them to disperse and return to their homes.

President Kenney is arranging for special trips to take the miners back to their homes.

The union officials told them, it is understood, that a continuation of the march would only end in disaster and probably slaughter of many of their number.

CITIZEN ARMY READY TO BATTLE INVADERS

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Aug. 26.—Civil war was hourly expected to break out in the West Virginia hills today.

The vanguard of 5000 "crusading" coal miners, marching from this vicinity toward "bloody Mingo" county, with the avowed intention of forcing complete unionization of that field, was reported to be approaching the frontier of Logan county—the "no man's land" lying between their starting point and their objective.

Confederate Governor Morgan, Major General Bandholtz, who arrived here from Washington by airplane, and President C. F. Kenney, of district No. 17 of the United Mine Workers' union, the union officials agreed to use every effort possible to persuade the miners marching to Mingo to disperse.

Kenney left Charleston this morning accompanied by Fred Mooney, secretary of the local. They expect to overtake the army and warn them that federal troops are prepared to stop the invasion.

Guarding the narrow mountain passes along the county line were groups of citizens, the outposts of Sheriff Don Chaffin's volunteer army of 1000 hastily mobilized men, to defend Logan county's sovereignty.

The instant the union miners set foot on Logan soil they were to be ordered back. If they continued to advance their march was to be met

NOW SAYS SHE IS NOT ON WAY TO HUSBAND

E. E. Stevens, proprietor of the Missouri Garage at Long Beach, and authority for published statements that Mrs. W. L. Harbough of San Jose was en route to this city to take charge of her husband, who has suffered a loss of memory, today informed The Register by telephone that he received a long distance call from Mrs. Harbough and that she told him she was unable to make the trip because of illness.

Stevens said that he assumed from her conversation this morning that she had never started, although he stated the fore part of the week that he had a special delivery letter and later a telegram from Mrs. Harbough informing him that she was on her way to Santa Ana. Stevens not only gave this information to The Register but to City Marshal Sam Jerigan.

Harbough was brought to the county jail a week ago today and identified by Stevens. He said that he had read a story in a newspaper of the man's predicament and felt sure that the aphasic was the man who came to his garage about a month ago and rented parking space with the intention of starting a repair business.

The United Press today made an effort to locate Mrs. Harbough in San Jose. Her address, according to Stevens, is 904 East Santa Clara street. She could not be found. It was learned that she was employed until recently by a San Jose cannery.

Reports that Harbough had deserted his wife and that he had $3,500 when he left San Jose could not be verified.

Word received here today is to the effect that Stevens will be here tomorrow afternoon to take the man back to San Jose.

Mrs. Lydia C. Rowley, grandmother of Burton H. Rowley, 117 West Eighteenth street, is dead today at the age of 95 years. She had been confined to her bed for the last eight years as the result of an accident, which fractured her hip. The end came last night as the result of old age.

Mrs. Rowley was born in Ohio, and had lived in Santa Ana for the last thirty-three years. Her husband died in Indiana before Mrs. Rowley came West. She was the mother of A. R. Rowley, who established the drug company here that still bears his name, and who died three years ago. Another son, Oscar, is living in the East.

Mrs. Mary Rowley, the daughter-in-law, and two sisters of Burton Rowley, Mrs. Hazel Flowers of Tustin and Miss Grace Rowley, a missionary in China, are the only other living relatives.

The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at 1:30 o'clock from the chapel of Smith & Tuthill. The Rev. J. H. Cooper of Los Angeles will read the service.

POINTS OUT TYPE OF ROCK MACADAM

At the meeting of the Good Roads committee of the Associated Chambers of Commerce, Tuesday evening, reported in yesterday's Register, several of those present expressed much interest in the rock macadam type of road—that is, a road "built from the ground up" of rock and gravel, starting with a heavy rock solidly rolled into the earth sub-grade, then an application of oil, then more rock of smaller size, and so on up, finishing with a smooth surface.

The discussion of this type of road, no doubt, inspired H. A. Lake of Garden Grove, to write the following letter received today:

Garden Grove, Cal., Aug. 24, '21.

Dear Mr. Baumgartner: I just happened to think that Los Angeles county is now finishing a stretch of about six miles of real genuine rock macadam road. You go north through Buena Park, then west through Northridge, after striking the Los Angeles county line you continue west about one mile to the east corner of the McNally olive orchard. Here there is a road that strikes straight west, and Los Angeles county is just completing this road, west to where it intersects the Norwalk-Artesia boulevard, two miles south of Norwalk.

This road is flat, and from the speed with which it is being built, I should judge it must be cheaper than either cement concrete or asphaltic concrete. I think I can get the cost of this road; it goes through some pretty heavy "dobby" alkali soil.

Mr. McBride's new assistant, Harry Parker, says he helped build the Whittier-Los Angeles macadam boulevard, which is one of the heaviest roads used out of Los Angeles, and that the center of this road has never been repaired.

I have a copy of a very interesting letter, written by Thomas H. McDonald, chief of the Bureau of Public Roads, Washington, D. C., to the editor of the El Centro Progress. This is one of the very best letters I have read on good roads construction, and I am sending it to Mr. D. Eymann Huff, so that he may send a copy of it to each member of the committee.

Yours truly,

H. A. LAKE.

P. S. By the way, Mr. Baumgartner, the new road being finished at Northridge is the last bit of a very long, important road. This road continues west from Northridge, through Bellflower, Clearwater, Compton, Gardena, and straight on to Redondo. It intersects all roads leading into Los Angeles from the south, and gives Orange county a new main road into the south end of Los Angeles.

RE-ELECT DE VALERA HEAD OF SINN FEIN

letter to Lloyd George, De Valera said:

"Our position is unchanged. It cannot change, because it is fundamentally sound and just.

"No fight can be made except on that rock and on that rock we'll stand.

"We want to end the conflict between Britain and Ireland. If your government is determined to impose its will upon us by force, and, antecedent to the generations, insist upon a condition which involves the surrender of our whole national position and makes the negotiations a mockery, responsibility for continuance of the conflict rests upon you.

"On the basis of the broad guiding principle of the government by the consent of the people, peace can be secured—a peace that will be just and honorable to all and inducing to amity.

"To negotiate such a peace, the Dail is ready to appoint its representatives and if your government accepts the principle proposed, to invest them with plenary powers to meet and arrange with you for its application in detail."

"Put others, one by one, in my place, in the place of the other members of the Dail, as we step out, it step out we must," he said.

"There are enough women and men in Ireland to take our places so that before the last is taken, the British government will be out of existence."

The Dail adjourned.

$500 CASH BAIL TODAY FORFEITED

Justice of the Peace Cox today adjured his books to show that $1,350 passed from his court to the county coffers. The sum represents the residue of three cases recently handled by him.

Of the total amount $500 in cash bail forfeited by Uri Sanders of the Brea district for his failure to appear on a continuance of his trial in the justice court. Sanders was charged by G. W. Belaria with stealing five $20 gold pieces.

Because of the absence of two or three witnesses the trial was not completed when first called. It was continued to July 28 and on that date the defendant failed to put in an appearance.

It was again continued and still he failed to show up.

After a lapse of twenty days, as required by law, Judge Cox declared the cash bail forfeited. The money was put up by Escion Robinson and Will Taves of the Richfield section. Robinson deposited $84.87 and Taves $415.13.

Joe Weinstein, local second hand dealer, who some weeks ago was fined $250 for selling several articles of household goods which it was charged, he obtained in a questionable manner, failed to perfect his appeal to the superior court and Judge Cox today enforced payment of the fine.

Henry Wallace, LaHabra drug clerk, found guilty of selling Jamaica ginger, an intoxicant, and fined $100. He also failed to perfect this appeal to the superior court in the time specified by law and the court enforced payment.

WONDERFUL GAIN
IN WEIGHT MADE

"Before I began taking Tanlac I only weighed 76 pounds. I now weigh over one hundred and am gaining every day," said Miss La-Rue Davis, of Chattanooga, Tennessee.
"I bought my first bottle of Tanlac at Gas City, Ind., and it helped me so much that I continued using it.
I have always been very delicate and suffered a great deal from stomach trouble and rheumatism. I rarely ever had any appetite and simply could not relish anything. I fell off until I only weighed 76 pounds and was so thin I looked perfectly awful. This is the condition I was in when I began taking Tanalac.
"Oh, I feel so different now. Even my complexion is improved. My appetite is good and I can hardly get enough to eat. Tanlac is simply grand and I can truthfully say that it is the only medicine that has ever done me any good."

They'd fain hold

The Flower street grocery, 522
South Flower, has been sold by V.
E. Maynard to Elmer Morse.

Gravity water flow is holding steadily. It was announced today by O. E. Manser, secretary of the Santa Ana Valley Irrigation company, to day. He said "the water is at its usual volume for this time of year, in fact, is a little bit better than average."

Mrs. Ida Hacklander, 425 East
Third street, today received a wire stating that her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Louise Hacklander, aged 32 wife of August Hacklander, has passed away in Three Rivers, Michigan, where they were on a visit to the young wife's parents, Mr. and Mrs.
John Timm. Mr. and Mrs. Hacklander, having sold their Fruit street home, decided to visit the latter's former home in Michigan, taking with them their nine-year-old daughter, Laura. The illness which resulted in the death of Mrs. Hacklander prolonged their stay in Three Rivers indefinitely. August Hacklander has sent word to his mother that he and his little daughter will return to Santa Ana in the near future.

All who ever lived in the Wisconsin are invited to meet for the great summer picnic reunion all day tomorrow, in Sycamore Grove park, Los Angeles.
There will be a brief program opening about 2 o'clock. Coffee will be served free to all who buy the silk souvenir badges. The president,
Col. Frank H. True, will preside.

Eight lodges of the Knights of Pythias will be represented at the annual picnic to be given at Orange county park, Sunday, August 28.
They are: Santa Ana, Tustin, Orange, Anaheim, Fullerton, and Brea Orange county, and Norwalk and Whittier of Los Angeles county. W.
B. Hawkins of Los Angeles will be speaker of the day. Valuable prizes, the committee announced, will be given to winners in the sport events, which include a tug-of-war and an indoor baseball game.

If you are seventy years old, says
Col. H. Parsons, secretary of the Federation of States societies, make it a point to attend the picnic to be given at Sycamore park, Los Angeles, Saturday, September 3.
"Bring your dinner, also cup and spoon. Coffee with cream and sugar will be provided free for all," says the invitation.

Due to a change in the arrangements, the date of the meeting of the North and South sections of the Ladies' Aid society of the First Methodist church which was announced for today, will not be held until Wednesday, August 31. On that day, Mrs. Matthews of 2409 North Main street, will open her home for the gathering as originally stated.

W. M. Hamilton of 1103 North Main street, Santa Ana, arrived home Thursday evening from Imperial Valley and reports two of the heaviest rains and cloudbursts the valley has had in years, one coming Sunday and the other on Tuesday of this week. The San Diego and Arizona railroad was washed out in many places, the grade being washed away. From west main canal at Dixieland the state boulevard lies two feet under water more than two miles east. Rescuing parties with two cars and bathing suits are much welcomed by tourists and the traveling public," said he.
"The rain was general. Business and traveling is almost suspended at present."

Mrs. Theresa Witte of Los Angeles, who tips the scales at 225 pounds, today was given an examination by the lunacy commission and committed to the Sonoma Home for Feeble Minded. Mrs. Witte was arrested here the forepart of July on a charge of forging the name of D. M.
Loveridge, proprietor of the Rossmore hotel, to a check for $5 which she presented at a local shoe store in payment for a pair of shoes. The authorities concluded immediately after her arrest that she was irresponsible. District Attorney Nelson and his deputies agreed that it would be best to dismiss the charge and send the young woman to Sonoma.

Knauf and Faul, barbers in the Surgione building, have been "touched" again. Their barber sign, on Fourth street, at the foot of the stairway leading to the second story of the building, was stolen last night, pole, frame and all. The firm has been operating in that location but a short time. The shop has been entered twice and barber tools and money stolen each time. The members now carry their tools home with them at night. It never occurred to them that some one might steal their sign, else they might have formed the habit of taking it home with them, too.

CHICAGO MOTORISTS
GETTING CHEAPER GAS

CHICAGO, Aug. 26.—Gasoline has dropped in price 1 cent a gallon here and in suburbs, according to announcement made today by the general manager of the Standard Oil company of Indiana. This brings the price at service stations to 19 cents a gallon and at tank wagons to 17 cents.

The last previous cut was made June 25, when a drop of 2 cents a gallon was scored.

AUTO DRIVER IS SENTENCED TO JAIL 6 MO.

A prolonged fight for probation, waged by A. D. Dingle of Anaheim and his attorney, A. E. Koepsel, proved futile today when Superior Judge Z. B. West sentenced Dingle to a term of six months in the county jail for driving an automobile while intoxicated.

The alleged offense was committed in Anaheim on May 25. Dingle was tried by a jury about three weeks ago and found guilty. The jury recommended leniency. Dingle immediately filed an application for probation.

Two weeks ago today and again last Friday Judge West heard the testimony of witnesses in Dingle's behalf. The hearing was continued to this date in order that Deputy District Attorney Mozley might produce witnesses who had seen Dingle intoxicated since the time of his alleged offense.

Those who testified this morning were Deputy Marshal M. A. Andrus, Frank A. Gillespie, John W. Blecker,
Fritz C. Kemper and L. J. Heffner.
With the exception of Heffner all testified that they had, at least on one occasion, smelled liquor on Din-gle's breath.

Gillespie claimed that Dingle collided with him while driving an automobile on July 6, last. He appeared to be intoxicated at that time, according to Gillespie.

In pronouncing sentence Judge
West told Dingle that his aged mother had not been informed of the charge against him and that it was proposed to keep her in ignorance of the situation.

The maximum penalty for driving an automobile while intoxicated is not less than one or more than three years in the state penitentiary.

An information was filed in Department No. 1 of the superior court this morning charging Amil Goossens with the same offense. He was arrested on August 9 on the state highway northwest of La Habra by Traffic Officer Vernon Myers.

SAN JOSE PASTORS FOR VOLSTEAD ACT

SAN JOSE, Aug. 26.—Members of the Pastor's Union, which met here at the Y. M. C. A., pledged their support to the little Volstead act and will proceed with a request to the supervisors at the referendum to be given a special election.

The matter was discussed from two standpoints—finance and moral obligation—and the latter overruled by a big majority.

STOCKS SHOW GAINS
AS TRADING JUMPS

NEW YORK, Aug. 26.—The Sun's financial review this afternoon said:
The stock market today enjoyed one of the most substantial rallies in weeks on an increased volume of trading. The sharpest advance, as a rule, were recorded by stocks which have been the targets of bears, including Famous Players, Beal Electric, Baldwin, Mexican Petroleum, Crucible and Studebaker.
The distress of the shorts in these stocks was indicated by advances of as much as a point on a single small buying order. The market was not free from soft spots, however.

U. S. Rubber was persistently pressed for sale when the rest of the market was advancing and both the common and preferred shares fell to new low figures. There was also a plentiful supply of United Drug, this stock going under 48.

Call money renewed at the rate of 5 per cent and time money was offered in sufficiently increased amounts as to cause some easing of rates.

CHICAGO BOARD OF TRADE

CHICAGO, Aug. 26.—Grain prices moved irregularly in a dull market on the board of trade today. Conflicting news of the exact amount of grains needed to fill the granaries of Europe and the hesitancy on the part of the professional speculators caused the condition of the market.

Provisions, following grains, were also irregular.

BRAVE DEATH IN FIGHT TO SAVE SINKING SHIP

United Press Leased Wire
NORTH HEAD, Wash., Aug. 26.—Another story of devotion to duty has been added to the history of the sea.

Through the dark hours of the night, with the danger of a sudden storm hovering over them, the crew of the freighter Canadian Importer, disabled 625 miles southwest of Columbia river lightship, manned their waterlogged craft and steadfastly supported Captain Bissett in his refusal of a tow to port and safety, according to radio messages received here early today.

CORDOVA OFFERS HELP
The steamer Cordova, of the Alaska line, Honolulu to Portland, stood by throughout the night, and although refused a chance at the salvage money involved in towing the Canadian freighter into port, nevertheless remained beside the Importer ready to take off the captain and crew at a moment's notice, according to radio messages here.

Messages from the Cordova and the Mannak, which is hurrying to the Importer's aid from San Francisco, give a meager account of how the Cordova chanced upon the helpless Importer whose wireless apparatus had been out of commission since August 19. On that day the vessel was left helpless upon the ocean's bosom by a leak in number two hold, which soon had the engine room flooded under seventeen feet of water.

Captain Bissett, according to opinions placed together from messages received, ordered the lifeboat with two officers and eleven men to put away from the Importer to reach land and bring assistance, not because of any fear that the lumber-laden steel steamer would sink.

Wireless Damaged
With her wireless out of commission and her captain determined not to take a tow, and with her position off the main lines of commerce, due to her disabled drifting, the handful of men tugging at the oars of the open boat held the vessel's safety in their hands.

The Cordova, slightly off her course, according to messages received, came upon Importer by pure chance and immediately rendered what assistance she could. In the dark, the disabled vessels low position in the water accounted for the earlier reports that she was sinking.

FEAR MOVIE BEAUTY IS SUICIDE VICTIM

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 26.—Police were today asked to search for Jean Riley, twenty year old motion picture actress, who dropped from sight on Tuesday afternoon.

The request was made by the young woman's mother, Mrs. Dora Gray, who said that she feared her daughter had committed suicide because of marital troubles. Miss Riley has been separated from her husband since June.

CHINESE GIRL QUILTS HIGH BANK POSITION TO VISIT OLD HOME

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 26.—Miss Dolly Gee, Chinese woman banker of San Francisco, after eight years is going to take a rest. She is going back to China shortly.

For several years she has been an unusual figure in banking circles, since, at the age of sixteen, she took a position in the Oriental department of a local bank, of which she has been made manager.

During the time she has been connected with the bank the department has had over 2000 Chinese depositors. Miss Gee personally has charge of foreign exchange loans, letters of credit and discounts, as well as commercial and savings accounts in the department.

MAY TAKE PROPERTY OF SLAYER SUSPECT

United Press Leased Wire
ROSEBURG, Ore., Aug. 26.—The real and personal property of Dr. Richard M. Brumfield, alleged murderer of Dennis Russell, has been placed in trust here and will be sold for the benefit of his creditors, W. F. Harris, administrator announced today.

Brumfield's liabilities are placed at a figure in excess of $20,000. The remainder of the property, after creditors have been satisfied will revert to Brumfield.

The accused dentist refused all interviews today. He appeared morose during his brief talk with his wife and his attorneys this morning.

The grand jury hearing has been set for Monday but the indictment will not be returned before the middle of the week, it is thought. The jury will probably be drawn on September 5 and the trial will start on September 7, according to District Attorney Neuner.

DES MOINES CARS TO OPERATE DURING FAIR

DES MOINES, Ia., Aug. 26.—An eight day armistice between the Des Moines street car company and the city has been concluded. Street cars will run during the eight days of the fair week, beginning today, on an eight cent fare.

ACTOR'S TRIAL SET IN AUTO DEATH CASE

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 26.—Trial of Eddie Borden, Orpheum comedian and star, charged with manslaughter in the killing of Mrs. Margaret Cassidy, who was struck by Borden's automobile, has been set for August 31.

Borden is at liberty under $2,000 bail, furnished by Eva Tanguay, also a vaudeville celebrity.

Mrs. Cassidy, a film actress, was run over and killed by Borden's automobile in front of a Culver City motion picture studio on July 25.

CHARGES SLAYER USED DRUGS TO QUIET VICTIM

United Press Leased Wire
SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 26.—In two robberies in which James E. Mahoney, charged with murdering his aged and wealthy bride, was involved prior to the present case, the evidence indicated that he had first drugged his victims into unconsciousness before robbing them, the prosecution announced today.

The state charges that Mahoney used the same method before he murdered his bride. Mahoney was serving a six to ten year term in Walla Walla penitentiary for a robbery committed in Spokane, when he was paroled by the governor after serving three years.

An analysis of Mrs. Mahoney's stomach today by Professor W. M. Deyn, of the University of Washington showed something between 10 and 15 grains of morphine. This supports the theory of Captain of Detectives Tennant that Mrs. Mahoney was lulled to sleep with an opiate, placed in the death trunk while under the influence of the drug and then bludgeoned to death.

"The discovery of the morphine in Mrs. Mahoney's stomach fits into the state's case perfectly," Prosecuting Attorney Douglas declared when informed of the chemist's report. "Every link in the chain of evidence is now forged."

HOTEL THIEVES IN $12,000 GEM HAUL

United Press Leased Wire
LOS ANGELES, Aug. 26.—Police and detectives were today exerting every effort to apprehend daring hotel thieves who during the night executed a $12,000 jewel haul from the apartments of Mrs. L. H. Bencini, San Diego society woman in a local hotel.

The robbery took place in the same hotel where Mrs. Robert ("Lady Bob") Montgomery of San Francisco recently successfully battled two would-be jewel thieves, thought to be members of the ring which robbed Mrs. Bencini. Sapphires and diamonds constituted the bulk of the loot obtained last night.

EDUCATED SKELETON CAUSES WILD RUMOR OF HANGING AFFAIR

SANTA ROSA, Cal., Aug. 26.—Chief of Police George W. Mathews, a dozen deputies and a throng of over a hundred persons marched out Humboldt street into the residence section today when reports reached police that a body was hanging from a tree in that district.

Attorney John A. Campbell, prominent Santa Rosa lawyer, notified police that he saw what appeared to be a skeleton or body hanging in a yard near his home.

The posse, reaching the location indicated, cheered loudly as Chief Mathews led down the old familiar skeleton that has been for years in the laboratory of the high school science department.

United Press Leased Wire
YOSEMITE, Cal., Aug. 26.—Delegates to the third annual convention of the American Legion of California, today under direction of their new commander, John R. Quinn, of Delano, will attend the dedication in Mariposa grove of a giant Sequoia to the memory of the unknown dead. A bronze inscription plaque will be placed on the tree.

Officers of the legion and the women's auxiliary were elected at the closing session, and by a two-thirds vote the choice of state adjutant was made appointive instead of elective. The appointment hereafter will be made by the commander with the approval of the executive committee. Legion executive officers are now:

BIG CROWD GATHERS FOR CLAUSEN SALE

For more than an hour yesterday morning people stood on the sidewalk in front of the Clausen Furniture store, waiting an opportunity to get in and inspect the offerings presented in a two-page advertisement that appeared in The Register the day before.

Clausen said this morning that it was the largest crowd he had ever seen at a similar event. It is undoubtedly one of the greatest sales in point of attendance ever held in Santa Ana.

A couple of extra trucks have been employed to make the deliveries, and while the deliverymen have been behind with their work yesterday and today, it is promised that deliveries will be made more promptly during the remainder of the sale.

The sale will continue until the present stock is depleted.

Clausen has made arrangements to build a new store at once, but it is likely that he will find it necessary to move out before his new building can be completed. He is therefore anxious to dispose of his entire stock as quickly as possible.

HOUSE AND SENATE QUILTS FOR 30 DAYS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26.—Before recessing at midnight last night for thirty days the senate put aside the anti-beer bill long enough to adopt the conference report on the agricultural credits bill already agreed to by the House and sent it to the President for his approval.

The measure, as agreed to, empowers the War Finance Corporation to issue $1,500,000,000 in its own bonds, and to lend $1,000,000,000 for financing agricultural exports. The House refused to agree to Senate provisions, which would allow the corporation to lend directly to European purchasers of the commodities, but the compromise will allow the finance corporation to lend to anybody, provided satisfactory collateral is furnished to it for the sums advanced.

The extra $500,000,000 of War Finance Corporation securities authorized by the bill, it is expected, will be sold, and the money utilized for purchase of railroad securities.

Conferees also agreed to eliminate the Senate provision allowing the War Finance Corporation to lend $200,000,000 to the Federal Farm Land Bank.

SHATTER RECORDS ON INTEREST COLLECTED

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 26.—All records on interest collections on state deposits were shattered last month when State Treasurer Friend W. Richardson took in $48,864.50.

Interest collections on the same average are now nearly twice as much as they were previous to Richardson's administration, and the increase in earnings for the state exceed $200,000.00 a year.

The state has on deposit in banks, subject to call at any time and secured by first-class bonds, more than $15,000,000. The interest rate when Richardson took office averaged slightly more than 2 per cent, while now the rate runs from 3 1/2 to 4 1/2 per cent. By careful attention to business the rate has been steadily increased with a resulting increase in revenue for the state.

SETTLEMENT IN BUILDING WAR NEAR. WORD

United Press Leased Wire
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 26.—Belief was expressed in labor circles that the building strike which has tied up operations in San Francisco since May 9 would be brought to a close tomorrow.

While the complete returns of the referendum, taken on the proposals of the industrial committee of the chamber of commerce will not be known until tomorrow, the ballots of the first twelve unions counted are said to have showed a large majority in favor of ending the strike on the proposed terms.

The terms do not mention the "American plan" or open shop, specifically, but state that the employer shall not be interfered with in hiring men, regardless of their labor affiliations.

PETALUMIAN IN CONGRESSIONAL RACE

PETALUMA, Aug. 26.—Charles A. Bodwell jr., is making an active canvass for the Republican nomination in the first congressional district. He has secured the endorsement of the Sonoma county Republican committee and is making good progress in other counties.

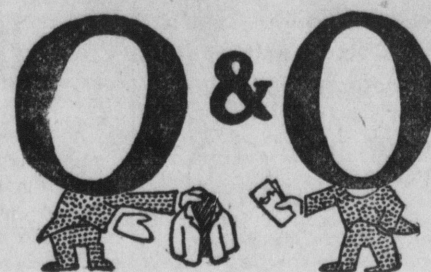

In the last election Bodwell entered the contest against Congressman Lea and carried several counties in a three weeks' campaign. Other candidates being groomed for the race are Assemblyman Pettis of Mendocino and Euvelle Howard of Lakeport.

HERO OF PIAVE IN NET OF SPEED COPS

SANTA BARBARA, Aug. 26.—A breakfast at San Mateo, public receptions at San Jose and Gilroy and an arrest for speeding at Santa Maria were included in one day's experiences of Gen. Pietro Badoglio, commander of the Italian army, who is en route by automobile from San Francisco to Los Angeles.

Members of the general's party said they were hurrying in response to word from Santa Barbara that a large throng was waiting here to greet the hero of the Piave.

Girlhood Friends Gather For "500" Party Honoring Guest

A series of games of "500" occupied the attention of a group of young matrons and maids gathered Wednesday evening at the home of Miss Elizabeth Givens in honor of Mrs. Frank Biggs of Oakland.

Mrs. Biggs, who was always a popular member of the younger set of this city during her girlhood days which were spent here, is always welcomed by her friends and made the incentive of just such pleasant evenings as the one at which Miss Givens was hostess.

There were three tables devoted to cards and when the final score was announced, Miss Muriel Lee of Los Angeles, was winner of the head prize while the consolation prize for low score went to Mrs. Floyd Knight. At the conclusion of the series, the guests remained at the tables, where the hostess served refreshments carrying out the prevailing pink and white tones of the flowers with which each table was garlanded and which were also used in lavish profusion throughout the room.

Among the guests were: Mrs. Frank Biggs, the honoree, Mrs. Martin Biggs, Mrs. Don Andrews, of Anaheim, Mrs. George Paul Jr., Mrs. Floyd Knight, Mrs. Harold Yost, Mrs. Samuel Barker, Mrs. Fay Wright, Mrs. Amelia Peckham, Miss Muriel Lee, who came from her Los Angeles home for the affair, Miss Thoretta Taylor, Miss Dorothy Mead, Miss Florence McArthur, Miss Ramona Clevenger and Miss Arvilla Ball.

Aesthetic Dancing Adds To Club Meeting

The exquisite dancing of the Misses Maxine and Isabel Berg added to the pleasure of the social meeting of that section of the Fraternal Brotherhood known as the Boosters' club which was held last night under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Finch and Mrs. Carl Helm.

The program opened with a clever reading by little Miss Ruth Helm, after which the two Misses Berg gave a graceful Grecian dance in duo.

Miss Maxine then gave two solos dances, the dainty "Captain Betty" and an amusing clown dance after which Miss Isabel gave her own interpretation of an oriental dance which was truly beautiful.

Refreshments of home-made apple pie and lemonade were served and the remainder of the evening devoted to social dancing.

Exodus of Santa Anans From Big Bear

Four Santa Ana families who have summer homes at Eagle point, Big Bear lake, arrived home yesterday, two of them ending their summer stay at the beautiful lake, two to return to the lake soon.

The families ending their stay are those of A. J. and C. S. Crookshank. A. J. Crookshank is leaving tomorrow for a hunting trip in the northern part of the state.

Dr. and Mrs. P. R. Reynolds came home for two or three days and Mr. and Mrs. George J. Smith for about ten days. The Smiths will return soon, probably to remain at the lake until October.

Mission Worker Leaves For Home of Sister

Combining a visit to the home of her sister, Mrs. O. B. Lolmaugh, of Hemet, with an engagement to appear before the congregation of the Hemet Baptist church, Miss Viola Hill left today for the little valley city to be gone for a week or more.

Miss Hill's appearance at the church will be Sunday night, when in connection with a missionary program, she will give a description of the life and customs of China and of her work there in the mission.

This is the first trip home Miss Hill has made in the six years she has been in China, and many enjoyable things are being planned daily by her friends and relatives.

In company with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. P. Hill, and her sister, Miss Phyllis Hill, she returned only a few days ago from a delightful camping trip to Forest Home where the Hill cabin was opened for their stay.

Enjoying Motor Trip Through North

A card received from Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Warwick, who left recently on a motor trip through the North, states that they are having a delightful trip and have finally reached San Francisco after some interesting experiences en route.

From San Francisco, they are making a number of short trips and have already visited the State Redwood park, the Big Basin and the Golden Gate park.

Mr. and Mrs. Warwick's present plan is to visit the Yosemite before returning home.

The Patchwork Quilt HAVE YOU A PIECE TO PUT IN IT?

By ELEANOR ELLIOTT

When the sudden outburst of nature lore on the part of the small boys of the city?

A glance any day at the grassy spaces of Birch park will always reveal at least one or two lads, armed with home-made butterfly nets, running over the smooth turf in pursuit of the gaily-colored denizens of the air.

"I've got pneumonia in this jar," one small, dirty-faced, wide-eyed boy assured us, seriously, "and pneumonia kills them so they don't suffer."

We agreed that such a thing might be possible, but were curious to know why the lovely little creatures had to be put to death even by so painless a method as "pneumonia."

"Why, we get 20 cents apiece for them," the lad answered in a I-am-surprised-at-your-ignorance manner.

Still, like Kipling's Elephant Child, our "satiable curiosity" was uppermost, and we desired to know how much he had as a result of his efforts.

"Oh, I haven't sold any yet," was his reply.

It is with a feeling of intense satisfaction that we welcome today, the first formal contribution to the Quilt.

"H. J. B." has our thanks for her (or his) prompt acceptance of the invitation to send a bit from her scrap bag and we present her "tribute to a friend":

"I never crossed your threshold with a grief But I went without it; never came Heart-hungry but you fed me; eased the blame And gave the sorrow solace and relief."

I never left you but I took away The love that drew me to your side again Through the wide door that never could remain Quite closed between us for a little day."

—From scrap-bag of H. J. B.

It is a funny thing that one can send a letter to any one of the presidents of the United States, because they are all represented in Uncle Sam's directory as the following list will show. And each of the twenty-eight is located in a different state, so that in this case at least, no one state can lay claim to being the "mother of presidents."

Washington, Ill. Buchanan, Va. Adams, Ind. Lincoln, Neb. Jefferson, Iowa. Johnston, Neb. Madison, N. C. Grant, Ore. Monroe, La. Hayes, Kan. Adams, Tenn. Garfield, N. J. Jackson, Mich. Arthur, Nev. Cleveland, Ohio. Harrison, Cal. Tyler, Tex. McKinley, Minn. Polk, Pa. Roosevelt, N. Y. Taylor, Ariz. Taft, Fla. Fillmore, Utah. Wilson, Wyo. Pierce, Ala. Harding, Mass.

The Managing Editor, who naturally belongs to the pie-eating sex, and evidently hopes that his wife reads "The Patchwork Quilt," handing us this little clipping this morning, with the remark that he had a gay-colored scrap for our quilt. In

Charming Informal Dinner For Oakland Visitors

Among the many affairs which give a whirl of gaiety to an otherwise quiet week, socially speaking, are the gatherings of the "Merry Hearts," the club which was started in high school days by a group of the "suo-debe" of that time.

One of their members, Mrs. Frank Biggs, who, with Mr. Biggs, is here from her Oakland home for a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Remsburg and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Biggs, is the motif for the various informal gatherings which are sometimes of the entire group and sometimes of individuals.

The latter was the case last night when Mr. and Mrs. Biggs were the guests at an informal dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Barker, 510 West Highland street.

Mrs. Barker used an effective arrangement of purple asters and maidenhair fern for table decorations, and a pleasantly informal "family dinner" was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Biggs contemplate a return to their Oakland home at the end of this week.

accordance with his desire, we present—

How to Bake a Fruit Pie: Juicy fruit pies present unexpected difficulties to the home cook, owing to their tendency to become soggy. Specialists in the experimental kitchen of the United States department of agriculture have found, in the course of pastry-baking experiments, that if the under crust is pre-baked until slightly brown, the pie will be much better. Another point brought out in connection with pastry making, especially in warm weather, is that speed in handling is an important factor if the housewife does not wish her dough to become soft and consequently difficult to roll and lift.

When Mrs. Frank True, who with her husband is now at the Sequoia forest, gazed at the oldest living thing upon this earth, her feelings found voice in the following verses, which we add to our quilt:

TO THE SEQUOIA Long before the ancient Roman built roads and towering walls; Long before the Phidian sculptor carved the vines in Grecian halls; Long before the tower of Babel was by God's wrath swept away, This old tree appeared its branches where the wild beasts sought their prey.

Full five thousand years it flourished, this a living, growing tree; Could it speak, perchance, it would tell us of the Sphinxes mystery. Dreaming in its swaying shadows, sacred things are very near As the breeze speaks through its branches in a whisper, "God is here."

Mrs. G. T. H. has sent in a request for fruit conserve recipes. Will our readers oblige us by sending in some of their favorites so that we may grant her request?

FAST TRAIN, YES "Is this a fast train?" the salesmen asked the conductor. "Of course it is," was the reply. "I thought it was. Would you mind my getting out to see what it is fast to?"

Pretty Wedding Scene In Santa Ana Home

The home of Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Platt at 420 Garfield street, was the scene of a pretty wedding last night when Mrs. Jean Bradley, who, while not related to the Platts, is lovingly claimed by them as their "daughter," became the bride of Charles Tibbetts.

Only a few close friends and relatives were present, among them Mrs. M. R. Tibbetts and daughter, of Indianapolis, a cousin of the groom.

The ceremony was that of the Presbyterian church and was spoken by the Rev. J. A. Stevenson. The bride, gowned in white organdy and carrying an arm cluster of Cecile Brunner roses and maiden-hair fern, was attended by her tiny five-year-old daughter, Frances, as flower girl.

Little Frances was a charming addition to the picture in a fluffy little ruffled frock of pale blue organdy and carrying a little pink basket which carried out the French color scheme of pink and blue.

At the conclusion of the ceremony, the guests were seated in the dining-room, where an elaborate course dinner was served, soon after which the happy couple took their departure for Catalina island, where they will spend their honeymoon.

Upon their return Mr. and Mrs. Tibbetts will live at Bellflower, where Mr. Tibbetts is connected with the Pacific Electric power station.

Wearers of White Ribbon Will Attend Picnic

Among the many local W. C. T. U. workers who are today planning to attend the big reunion and picnic to be held tomorrow at Lincoln park, Los Angeles, when W. C. T. U. delegates to the national convention just ended at San Francisco, will be present, are the following:

Mrs. G. P. Hill, county president; Mrs. J. H. Schmitz, local president; Mrs. J. E. Kellogg, Mrs. F. E. Little, Mrs. Emma Childers, Mrs. Lee Warren, Mrs. Nora Davies, Mrs. Berg, Mrs. A. A. Jones, Mrs. J. N. Anderson, Mrs. C. A. Miller and Miss Emily Cox.

The trip into the city will be by automobile and a start will be made as soon after 8 o'clock as possible.

Transcontinental Trip

Leaving yesterday on the All-Pacific Limited, No. 4, Mr. and Mrs. J. Chandler of the Chandler Music store, will enjoy a trip across the continent before their return to Santa Ana in the course of a few weeks.

At Chicago, they plan a visit to the big Chickering Piano factory, where they will witness the manufacture of the piano, which is among those handled by the store. Mr. and Mrs. Chandler will also visit the New York markets before their return.

$40,000 SCHOOL TO BE ERECTED

VENICE, Aug. 26.—The Venice school board yesterday awarded the contract for a new eight-room school building in Island avenue to J. L. Schmitz for $32,000.

Incidentals will bring the total cost to $40,000, which is $10,000 lower than the original estimate. Contracts will be let Friday night for two other schools.

Former Santa Ana Maid Weds Angeleno at Huntington Park

A wedding holding quite a bit of interest for Santa Anans, occurred last night at Huntington Park when Miss Grace Patterson, a former Santa Ana girl, and a graduate of the local high school with the class of 1914, became the bride of Virgil Wilkinson, of Los Angeles.

The wedding took place at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. James Patterson, and was a lovely ceremony, performed by the Rev. "Boo" Shuler of Trinity church, Los Angeles. The ceremony was preceded by the singing of "Oh, Perfect Day" by a sister of the groom, while another sister acted as maid of honor.

The bride was gowned in a lovely frock of white organdy and carried a shower of white asters and maiden-hair fern. As the wedding party moved to take their places for the ceremony, dainty little Frances Gunn scattered flowers in the path of the bride, from a basket which also held the wedding ring.

The floral effect in the home was particularly lovely and was achieved by the lavish use of dahlias in their brilliant colorings.

Santa Ana and Fullerton guests present included Mr. and Mrs. Martin Warren, Mr. and Mrs. Jess Hardy, Mrs. J. E. Collins and daughter Edwina, and Miss Martha McCune. Mr. and Mrs. Will Warren of Santa Monica, formerly of Santa Ana were also present.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilkinson left soon after the ceremony for a honeymoon at the beaches.

Previous to her marriage, the bride was the incentive for many pleasant social affairs, one of which was a miscellaneous shower given last Saturday afternoon at the Fullerton home of Mrs. Jess Hardy, when Mrs. Hardy and Mrs. Will Warren acted as joint hostesses to a large group of school friends of the prospective bride. A number of beautiful gifts were added to her store on the occasion, and a delightful afternoon was added to her store of happy memories.

Foreign Missions With Home Fun

The annual mite box opening of the Woman's Foreign Missionary society of the Richland avenue Methodist church will be held tomorrow afternoon when the members of the society will gather in Birch park for the ceremony.

The hour named for the actual opening of the boxes is 3 o'clock, and following the short program to be given in connection with the ceremony, the husbands of the members will be entertained at a picnic supper. Each member is instructed to bring with her a picnic supper sufficient for two, and a merry evening is anticipated.

Leave for Forest Home

Mrs. J. S. Moody, of Glendale, has arrived for a visit at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Albert Hill. She will join Mr. and Mrs. Hill and their two little sons, Albert Jr. and Halvin, at the Hill's brother, Frank Moody in a trip to Forest Home, where the party will spend a week at the Hill cabin.

The Right Clothes Can Take Years Away from a Man's Looks

Someone has asked the question "When does a young man begin to grow old?" This could be answered by saying "When he believes that the size is the only difference between one suit of clothes and another—when he begins to forget the importance of style, color and pattern." The right style, the right touch of color and the character of the pattern have worlds to do with making a man look old or young. We are here to help you get the right clothes—clothes that keep you as young in appearance as you are in ideas.

MAN WHO ESCAPED FROM HOSPITAL IS TAKEN INTO CUSTODY

Identified by a circular sent out by the sheriff's office here, R. W. Lynne, drug addict, who escaped from the county hospital last Saturday morning, was arrested in Riverside early today. Under Sheriff E. E. French and Deputy Sheriff Joe Irvine left this morning for Riverside and will return with the prisoner.

Lynne was arrested here about 10 days ago by Constable Jesse Elliott and Officer Rogers on a charge of passing a worthless check for $5. He was arraigned in the justice court and his preliminary hearing was set for next Monday, August 29.

Will Clark, also a confessed drug addict, was arrested with Lynne. He was charged with vagrancy, pleaded guilty and received a jail sentence of thirty days. Because of their physical condition both men were transferred to the county hospital.

Immediately after being given baths by the hospital orderly last Saturday morning Lynne and Clark made a break for liberty. Thinly clad, they made their way to the Santa Fe railway tracks. Clark, a consumptive, could not keep pace with Lynne and he was soon overtaken by the orderly from whom he escaped. Lynne got away.

Clark was returned to the hospital and made a second attempt to escape three hours later. Upon making his second break he fled the hospital orderly with a club. Circulars have also been sent broadcast for Clark and the authorities believe that he will be apprehended. Every precaution will be taken to guard against another attempt on the part of Lynne to escape.

SPORTSMEN OF STATE WATCH FOR RACES

Yachting sportsmen from the entire California coastline as far north as San Francisco will have their vision centered on Newport harbor over the week-end of September 3, 4 and 5, and the Orange county port will see a gathering of pleasure craft second only to the big coast regatta held at Santa Barbara, according to announcement of officers of the Newport Harbor Yacht club.

The festivities are to start Saturday, September 23, with a race of South Coast and L. A. Motorboat club members to Balboa from San Pedro, with a genuine yacht club dance at night, limited to members and visiting yachtsmen. This party will be held at the Newport Harbor Yacht club house, which will be the center of activities during the three days. Monday, Labor day, will see some fast speedboat and sailing races on the outside course, and Monday evening there will be an informal dance for members and their guests, limited to six.

"We are going to show our visitors a royal good time and need every member, particularly the boat owners, to lend every assistance in being the genial hosts that the club is noted for," reads the Newport club's announcement. "Those members who have small runabout boats or small cruisers can help materially in acting as pilot boats for the visiting ships. Let's put the party on right and show our visitors we know how it should be done."

Coast Racers Coming
Some of the local yachtsmen expect as many boats at Balboa over the Labor day regatta as were present at Santa Barbara, and assurance is given that all the clubs, from San Diego to San Francisco, will be represented. From San Diego will come the fast sloops Gretchen and Tribby, and the San Francisco boats will include the sloop Tribby and ketch Seaward, according to announcement.

A perfect round of entertainment for the visitors is planned and Orange county people in general, and yacht club members in particular, will be called upon to put forth every effort to make the visiting yachtsmen happy. This will be the first big yacht gathering at Orange county's harbor, and it is hoped will be followed by the big California regatta next year.

GETTING READY TO DISTRIBUTE BOOKS

It will take 15,000 operations to provide high school students with textbooks and manuals this year, according to Principal D. K. Hammond. Preparations were under way today toward completing final arrangements for supplying students with their free textbooks now compulsory under a state law that went into effect for high schools of the state last year.

Books are to be distributed from Sam Stein's store again this year, according to an announcement today. The Santa Ana Book store will exclusively take care of the Junior College books.

The system of distribution last year was very successful and will be duplicated when the high school opens on September 12.

As soon as the student enrolls for a subject on registration days, September 6-9, he will be given a card, bearing the title, author and number of the text to be used in that course. Similar cards are to be issued for every subject taken up by the student.

When taken, to Stein's these cards entitle the student to the necessary book. The name and registration number of the student must be printed on the card.

The slips are kept at Stein's and when the semester is over will be checked up. Every book turned in will be investigated as to its condition compared with when it was issued.

The average life of a book is estimated at three years, so a one-third depreciation is allowed. Should the book be in a bad condition a damage estimate is made and that it fee to be made by every student at the first of the year.

Last year there were only 20 such adjustments made out of 15,000 cases. According to Hammond, 95 percent of the high school students take care of their books and take pride in their good condition.

UP-STATE NEWS

WEED (Siskiyou Co.). Rattlesnakes in the vicinity of Weed have been quite prevalent this summer. Last week seven were killed on the Murphy ranch. The largest one had eight rattles and a button. Numerous people have reported the killing of two and three snakes.

NAPA—A resolution was introduced by City Attorney John York at the City Council meeting Monday evening calling for a municipal election on Sept. 10, on taking the forty acres of land on Lincoln Avenue into the city limits for the new high school building. The Court House will be the only polling place, and the following will serve on the election board: Mrs. Blanche Brantley, Mrs. Julia Roper and Mrs. Annie Shephard.

REDDING—Byron Frost of Willows and Frank Kenyon of Round Mountain, who own a homestead eight miles southeast of Round Mountain, report that they have found a good vein of soft coal on their place, or rather three veins of three feet each, in such proximity they all can be worked through one tunnel. The coal is soft and of the lignite variety. They claim that it has proved satisfactory for welding purposes when used in a blacksmith shop. Nearby they also claim to have found fossils of sea animals.

SHAWMUT (Tuolumne Co.)—productive operations will be resumed at the Shawmut mine in Tuolumne county early in September. This property, known as one of the large gold producers of the Mother Lode, was taken over several years ago by the Belmont Shawmut Mining company, which conducted operations upon a broad scale until August 1920. At that time, owing to the tremendous increase in operating costs which affected the entire gold mining industry, the management, seeing no immediate relief from such conditions, suspended operations until more nearly normal conditions prevail.

RED BLUFF—The El Camino School district is to be annexed to the Red Bluff high school district. This was the action taken by the county board of supervisors. This means the local district will be considerably enlarged in area and many thousands of dollars added to its valuation. The El Camino district some weeks ago voted bonds in the sum of $13,000 with which to build a new school-house. The County Board decided to accept the bid of the State Board of Control for the bonds.

LODI (San Joaquin Co.)—Despite a decline of $70,237 in the personal property assessment totals over last year, Lodi's assessed valuation for 1921 is $598,527 in advance of the 1920 figure. This is according to city clerk and assessor John Blakeley. The property valuation this year is given by Blakeley as $3,853,046.

OFFICIALS, MEN AND MEDIATORS MEETING

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 26.—A conference to draw a new wage agreement between the Shell Oil Company and its employees was begun here today between representatives of the company, the men, and two Federal mediators, E. P. Marsh and C. T. Connell. The question of wages was not reached, it was reported.

The company wants wages reduced, according to Robert A. Lewin, the secretary, but he did not state how much, saying that was a matter to be determined in the conference. He characterized today's meeting as satisfactory.

OIL WORKERS HOLD CLOSED MEETING

Four hundred of the 1200 unionized oil field workers of Orange county met at Brea last night, to listen to R. H. Stickel, president of the International association of oil field workers, according to reports received here today.

Whether a strike sentiment was in evidence, could not be learned. Miss Mary Burris, assistant to C. C. Kinsler, secretary of the Orange county local, now on his vacation, admitted that the meeting was large but declined to reveal what transpired. It was a closed meeting, she said.

Orange county workers were waiting, they said, for reports from San Francisco and Bakersfield. Prospects looked brighter in their opinion for a satisfactory adjustment of the wage dispute.

SANTA FE FIESTA INTERESTING EVENT

What the Peace-Pipe Pageant Play at Laguna Beach may become to Orange county, the Santa Fe Fiesta is to New Mexico. This year's fiesta at Santa Fe will be held from September 5 to 8 inclusive.

The Santa Fe Fiesta is held always in the month of September, pursuant to an order made in 1712. Through two centuries of historical pageants, plays and ceremonies, interspersed with Indian ceremonial dances, the Santa Fe Fiesta has grown until today it attracts nationwide attendance.

The four days of the coming fiesta have been named, respectively, Indian Day, De Vargas Day, Spanish American Day, and Santa Fe Trail Day.

Each of these days will be given to historical pageantry showing the period after which the day is named.

One of the features of the fiesta will be "The Commerce of the Prairies," pageant to be given on Santa Fe Trail day, the closing day of the annual festival.

This pageant will present the feature of the commerce of the prairies from the middle of the eighteenth century to date, events being grouped by decades.

Nowhere in the United States, perhaps, can be found a spot so replete with interest as the Plaza in New Mexico's historic capital, of which this feature is reminiscent. In the Plaza centered all the activities of what was known as the "Santa Fe Trade," the Commerce of the Grand Prairies.

Santa Fe was an old place when the Pilgrims landed at Plymouth. About 1606, so the chronicler says, Don Juan de Onate, Adelantado, Governor and Captain General of the "Kingdom and Province of New Mexico," here founded his Real or Capital, on the site of the ruins of two small Indian pueblos.

Older than its four venerable churches, thousands of years older, is the civilization that has scattered its monuments all around Santa Fe. Santa Fe, today a city of 10,000 inhabitants, proudly proclaims the fact that it has never advertised, at least not in the sense or manner in which far less attractive places have been advertised to the tourist world.

It feels that has not been entirely spoiled by modern accepted methods of civic improvements or by the erection of many modern edifices, public or private, in use or character. Santa Fe possesses and is cultivating a distinctive type of architecture known as the "Santa Fe Type," the features of which are definitely Southwestern, Spanish and Mexican colonial, with a touch of the Indian pueblo.

Imbued with the spirit of its city's history, the chamber of Commerce of Santa Fe has published an official program of the coming fiesta. The program gives a history of New Mexico, its cliff dwellings and Indian pueblos and views of its modern hotels, in addition to many other interesting items which surround the on-coming capital's annual fiesta, first celebrated A. D. 1712.

EL MODENA

EL MODENA, Aug. 26.—Thirty-two El Modena members attended the quarterly conference of our church at Alhambra Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Dixon of Glendale, were Saturday evening callers at the Crist home. They came down to say goodbye to Miss Orpha, who leaves this week for her school in McArthur.

The Woman's Missionary Society held its first meeting of the new year's work at the home of Mrs. Wing, corner of Pearl and Esplanade, Thursday afternoon of last week. Mr. and Mrs. Kaylor were there and Mr. Kaylor gave a very interesting talk on their work in India. Mrs. Kaylor will be remembered as Miss Ina Marshburn, second daughter of Nancy and Mahlon Marshburn of this place. They leave for their field October 1. Mr. Kaylor has been in India seven years.

The Rev. Jesse Stanfield of Genoa Falls, New York, gave the message Sunday morning.

Mrs. Crist and daughter attended the Peace Pipe play at Laguna Friday evening and report a fine play.

Paid Fancy Prices

"I paid an international authority on diseases of the stomach $1,500 and he didn't do me five cents' worth of good. I have been to various Spas in Europe, as well as this country and have spent fully $30,000 fruitlessly in search of a cure for my stomach trouble. Naturally I lost faith in any remedy for my case. My wife's brother had taken Mayr's Wonderful Remedy and praised it so highly that I tried it and am now entirely rid of that trouble. It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. All druggists. Adv.

DOG SITS ON LIVE WIRE; IS RESCUED

MARTINS FERRY, Ohio, August 26.—Dr. John John's coach dog joined a crowd watching linemen restore wires torn down during a storm.

The dog sat down on a live wire, startling the crowd with its yelps. A board was used in freeing him from his involuntary electrical massage.

COMMENDS STAND ON ROAD MATERIAL

The following letter, received today, refers to the report of the special committee, consisting of L. H. Wallace, C. R. Crumrine and J. P. Baumgartner, submitted to and adopted by the Associated Chambers of Commerce at Fullerton. This report recommended asphaltic concrete roads in preference to cement concrete construction.

The letter is from F. E. Elliott, who, as appears from his letter-head, is in the hardware and farm implement business and also handles trucks and tractors. That he is a man of ability in his community is indicated by a fact (stated in his letter) that he served as chairman of the Board of Supervisors of his home county.

The letter follows:

"Somerton, Arizona, Aug. 24 1921.

"Mr. J. P. Baumgartner, Santa Ana, Cal.

"Dear Sir:—I was just reading over a report on roads which you and your committee handed in on April 25, 1921.

"To say the least your report was fine and will meet the approval of anyone who has made a deep study of road construction.

"As chairman of the board of supervisors for seven years, I have made an extensive study of all classes of roads, have been over almost every foot of good roads in your state (and bad ones, too,) and find that asphaltic concrete is the only road that will stand up and last.

"In this hot country of ours we find that this is the best and only road material to use. It adjusts itself to conditions of the roadbed without cracking and is much easier kept up. We can show you, if you desire, a road of this construction in Yuma county, and not one cent of expense in the past five years.

I was so deeply interested in your report, and so pleased with it, that I felt that I must congratulate your committee, which in my judgment, has performed a real public service.

Respectfully Yours,

F. E. Elliott."

For twenty hours this food is baked—one reason you like it—another reason why it digests so easily.

One of the important things in connection with any cereal food is to have it thoroughly baked or cooked. For baking or cooking changes the starch of the grains.

Grape-Nuts is the longest baked of all cereal foods. It is scientifically baked at carefully regulated temperatures for 20 hours. This is one of the reasons why Grape-Nuts digests so easily; why it agrees with many people who cannot take any other form of cereal without producing fermentation.

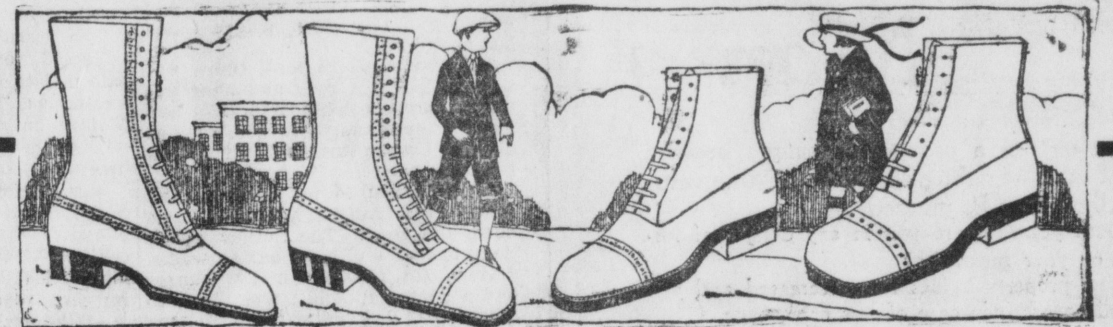

A goodly part of Grape-Nuts is converted into dextrose, ready to be immediately assimilated by the system, and yield strength and energy. A further portion has partially undergone this change, while there remains sufficient unchanged cereal to strengthen the digestive organs. It is then in a condition to meet the various requirements of the digestive system.

If you want to eat a most strengthening and nourishing food, and one that will digest more readily, go to your grocer today and get a package of Grape-Nuts. Eat it with stewed fruit or as a cereal with milk or cream; or make it into an appetizing pudding.

Every member of the family will enjoy its delicious flavor and wholesomeness.

GIVES DETAILS GIRL IS KILLED OF DROWNING IN FALL FROM HIGH PORCH OF TALBOTT

Details of how Dale Talbott, Santa Ana man and World War veteran, was drowned in the Merced river Monday afternoon were given to The Register today by W. Stanley Gebb, 1726 North Spurgeon, who arrived here from the Yosemite last night. Gebb was Talbott's companion on the vacation trip and was the only person present when the drowning occurred.

Talbott's body arrived here yesterday. Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 from the undertaking parlors of Smith and Tutthill. The Rev. Otto S. Russell, pastor of the First Baptist Church, will officiate.

Mrs. W. E. Talbott, mother of the drowned man, is expected to arrive in Santa Ana tomorrow morning from Burlington, Iowa, where she had been visiting relatives.

According to Gebb, the water looks shallow at Steamboat Bay, but there are many places where there is a depth of ten feet or more. Talbott, who did not know how to swim, fell into one of these places.

"The trip to El Portal was to have been the last one before we left for Lake Tahoe," said Gebb today. "On our way back from El Portal Dale said to me, 'The water in the river looks more inviting all the time.' I told him we would stop at the next sandy pool. It happened that we stopped at Steamboat Bay, the most treacherous part of the entire Merced river. That fact was unknown to us. The river here was 30 feet below the road.

"I had been in the water for five minutes before Dale entered. After swimming around for a few minutes I left the water and stood on a rocky ledge to dry with my back toward the sun. Dale was 50 feet away.

"When I stepped out he was waist deep in the water and making movements as though he were swimming. He made no outcry whatever.

"When I had finished rubbing the water from my arms and body I turned to tell him he had better come out of the water. I could not see him but I thought he had waded to the bank around a large ledge where I had been so I called out to him twice. When I did not get any reply I called loudly for help and waded into the water where I had last seen him.

"On the opposite bank there was a large ledge of rock and near this the water was quite deep. Not seeing him there and the water being as deep or deeper farther down I knew I must get help.

"I returned to my machine and drove to a ranger station a mile down the road. The ranger wasn't there but I found a sprinkling wagon driver. He phoned for the ranger and a doctor and then went back to Steamboat Bay with me. He was familiar with this pool and walking to the edge of the road, 30 feet above the river, saw the body in about ten feet of water.

"This was about 20 yards below where I last saw Dale. The undercurrent had carried the body between two logs. When we got the body from the water, the doctor arrived. He tried artificial respiration but it was useless."

Talbott was the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Talbott, 526 South Broadway. He was 26 years old and a graduate of the Santa Ana High school. He was unmarried.

Falling from a porch at her home, corner Sixth and Minter streets, little Anita Enders, aged 9 years, was instantly killed. Death was due to a fracture of a vertebra of the neck.

Anita's loved Dolly lay undisturbed on the high porch floor of the house at East Sixth and Minter streets this morning.

A mother and father sat before an untouched breakfast listening for the childish laughter that yesterday was so real and today was but an aching memory.

Little Anita Enders was the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Enders. Yesterday afternoon she was teaching her dolly its alphabet. Perched on the porch rail, clasping book and Dolly, Anita with a small finger, emphasized each letter.

Then she fell. When mother reached the street her daughter was dead. The small body, in its fall, struck a picket fence. Death was almost instantaneous.

The family came from Washington state. Three years ago, and for some years previous to that, they lived at Burlington, Iowa.

Enders had conducted a grocery and meat market in the Arcade building, on East Fourth street, near the Santa Fe tracks, since his arrival here.

Funeral arrangements were being made today. The body is at Smith and Tutthill's undertaking parlor. Mrs. Enders will accompany the body to Burlington.

SAYS NOT GUILTY TO FRAUD CHARGE

Charged with obtaining money under false pretenses, J. K. Woods, who purports to be an agent for an oil syndicate, today was arraigned in the superior court. He pleaded not guilty to the information and Judge Z. B. West set his trial for October 19 at 10 o'clock. Woods is at liberty on $3000 bail.

The defendant is alleged to have collected over $2000 through the sale of lots and oil rights at a place known as "Aquaduct City" on the Mojave desert. Among the persons who claimed to have been defrauded are seven Anaheim women.

Mrs. Laura B. Beech, a real estate operator of Anaheim, claims that she gave Woods $720, and Mrs. Frances A. Nelson, asserts that she gave him $200. Others contributed sums ranging from $25 to $300.

At the preliminary hearing held in the justice court here the women testified that Woods failed to keep a promise to take them on a picnic trip to the oil field. They said that they decided to make the trip without him, and did so.

According to the testimony the picture Woods painted of a booming oil town, with plenty of water for domestic and commercial purposes, stores, homes, etc., was nothing more than desert land and barren hills.

SAYS HE IS READY TO TAKE MEDICINE

Jess Cunningham of Los Angeles, a salesman for a furniture company, was arraigned in the superior court here today on a charge of bigamy. He pleaded guilty to the information and Judge Z. B. West set the time for pronouncement of sentence at 10 o'clock next Tuesday morning, Department No. 2.

Cunningham married Violet Trabant here on December 4, last. At that time he had a legal wife, Hazel Cunningham, living in Los Angeles.

The defendant told the court that he did not need an attorney. He said that he was ready to plead guilty and "take his medicine."

HUNTINGTON GOES FORTH AFTER DEER

George Huntington today was promising numerous of his friends liberal supplies of venison upon his return from a contemplated deer hunting expedition into the mountains of Tulare county.

Accompanying Huntington will be A. E. Thomas, of this city, Joseph Durkee, of Anaheim, and Charles Durkee, of Los Angeles.

Huntington has set the bag for the company at six bucks and he is positive that it will return with this number of kills.

Thomas is an old deer hunter or Minnesota and keen for a chance to try his luck at California deer. The hunters will leave here Tuesday or next week and will hunt north of Wood lake, in Tulare county.

COLOMBIAN SENATE RECEIVES TREATY

BOGOTA, Colombia, Aug. 26.—The treaty between the United States and Colombia was presented to the senate by the foreign minister. The minister said he would inform the senate as to details regarding modification made in the instrument of the United States.

The principal newspapers lament the suppression of the first cause of the treaty, which they regard as more important than pecuniary indemnification.

AUTO TRADESMEN TO ATTEND HIGH JINKS

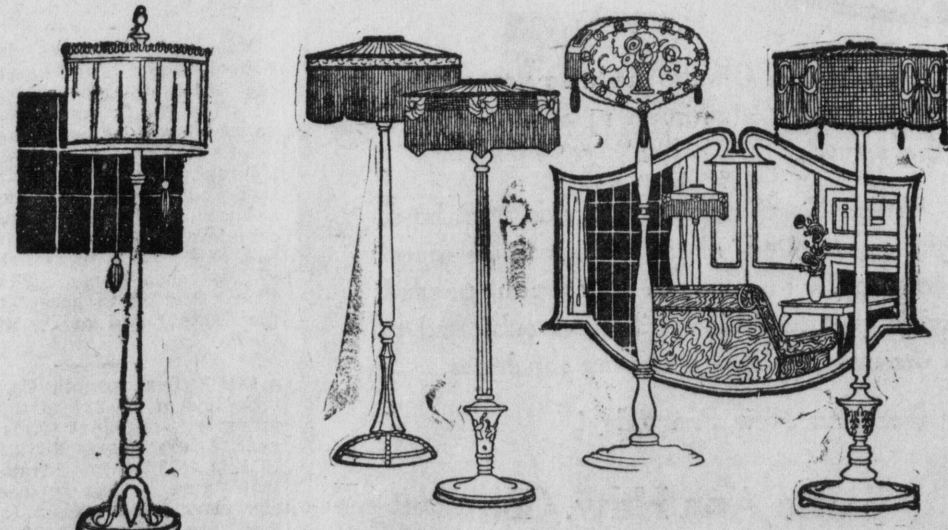

Orange county automotive tradesmen in large numbers today were completing plans for attending the high jinks of the San Diego association tomorrow night and Sunday. With an automobile show on at Anaheim this afternoon and tonight and the high jinks in prospect for tomorrow and the following day, the week-end is one of activity for the tradesmen.

The Orange County Automobile Trades Association band has been engaged for the decorated automobile parade at San Diego scheduled for tomorrow at 11:30 a. m. The band will leave here early tomorrow morning, accompanied by a large number of friends. Other of the county tradesmen will go down in the afternoon for the smoker tomorrow evening.

Sunday there will be a barbecue and a program of sports at Tia Juana. The new concrete highway to Tia Juana has been completed, it is announced, from San Diego, eliminating one of the greatest objections to an automobile trip to the border town. Formerly the dust made a ride to the place anything but a joy. Passports are not required for crossing the border.

Members of the Orange county association have been given free tickets to the events and all are anticipating a big time.

George Haberfelde, president, and Robert Martland, secretary of the state association, are expected to be present.

LOCAL TEACHERS FIRST TO PASS OVER ALASKAN HIGHWAY

Misses Jennie Lasby and Josephine Arnoldy Home from North

WONDER TOUR IS THEIRS

Future of Vast Land Is Discussed by Junior College Woman

The distinction of being passengers in the first car out of Fairbanks, to cross the newly completed Richardson highway and make the five-day journey to Valdez, rests on two Santa Anas, Miss Jennie Lasby and Miss Josephine Arnoldy, of the Santa Ana Junior college and high school faculties, who, this summer, invaded the Alaskan gold fields and returned, laden with treasure trove in the way of impressions and experiences.

Leaving Santa Ana early in June, these most modern Argonauts went directly to the dreamed of territory with the intention of seeing as much of Alaska as was humanly possible in the brief summer season.

Their first stop was made at the coast town of Ketchikan, from which point they went to Wrangell and their made their first acquaintance with the strange Indian relics and the Totem poles of the original settlers. These primitive family trees, they found as interesting and weird as their liveliest fancies had painted them.

See Gold Mines

At Juneau, they visited the Alaska gold mine and at Skagway they took the White Pass railroad which as closely as possible, parallels the miner's trail of '97. Through the terrible Chilkoot pass and the historic "White Horse" they passed and at the pattern point took a river boat and went 1500 miles up the Yukon to Dawson, where they followed up the Klondike creek to the famous Bonanza mine.

The wonders of the midnight sun were curtailed by thirty minutes, as the party reached Dawson just a little too late for the full effect of a sunshiny night, but since his Majesty remained below the horizon for only thirty minutes, neither Miss Lasby nor Miss Arnoldy felt cheated out of the experience.

"The facts of the case are that we scarcely slept at all the first week," declared Miss Lasby in her account of the trip, "and a thirty minutes' twilight was quite acceptable."

Far North Vegetables

At Tanana, the party left the Klondike river and pursued their way up the Tanana river to Fairbanks where they visited the famous gardens and ate of the fruits and vegetables grown in the Arctic circle above the 64th meridian.

"All of the more rapidly growing vegetables are produced in their brief summer season," stated Miss Lasby. "The ground is thawed for only four months out of the twelve, so the variety of vegetables grown, is necessarily limited, but I believe anyone ever tasting it, will agree with me that the Alaskan celery is

Brightest Spot In Whole Country Is Orange County, Says Shepherd

"In the financial world today, Southern California is the brightest spot, and in Southern California the brightest spot is Orange county."

This statement was made in Santa Ana yesterday by C. J. Shepherd, manager of the Los Angeles branch of the Federal reserve bank.

Coming from Shepherd, the statement is authoritative.

"I am speaking about general conditions," said Shepherd, "and particularly with regard to the banking business, which is the mirror of business conditions. Southern California has gone through the crisis of the business depression in very good shape."

"The prospects for Orange county people and Orange county banks are good. The situation in my district has cleared, and here in Orange county, the brightest spot, there is every reason to feel encouragement."

Mr. and Mrs. Shepherd were passing through Santa Ana yesterday and stopped for calls at the local banks.

BIG CROWD AT AUTO SHOW AT ANAHEIM

The "beauties of autodom" are up for critical inspection this afternoon by admiring throngs at the street automobile show at Anaheim. The show is under the auspices of the Orange County Automobile Trades association.

According to reports from Anaheim, the streets were filled with people attached to the Mother colony by the exhibition. The display is on Center street, in the block between Los Angeles and Lemon streets. Street decorations added to the beauty of the display, but no attempt at decorations was made by the exhibitors.

Practically every dealer in the county is represented in the show, each with one or more machines in the exhibit.

The big crowd is expected tonight, it being declared that reports from various sections of the county indicated that many were making preparations this afternoon to be among those present at the show tonight.

The novelty of a display of machines on the street simulating an automobile show, is interesting to motor fans, and particularly those who are considering the purchase of new cars. With all the 'est makes arrayed side by side on the street, opportunity is given for examination and inspection of all the models for comparison of their body lines and power plants.

A band concert and street dance will be features of the evening program. The Orange County Automobile Trades' association band is scheduled to give a half-hour concert from 7 to 7:30 o'clock. During the two hours following it is expected the attention of the visitors will be given over entirely to viewing the display.

Street dancing will start at 9:30 and continue until 11:30.

LOCAL BANKERS HOLD MINIMUM RATE TO 7

Also Refuse to Make Charge When Accounts Drop Low

Santa Ana banks, this time joined with Orange banks, have again refused to raise the rate of interest.

Banks of the northern part of the county have been charging 8 per cent as their minimum. Santa Ana banks have 7 per cent as their minimum and prevailing rate.

A number of other scheduled charges entered into by some of the northern county banks have been presented to the local banks for their approval, but were denied.

Chief among the proposals was one that the banks make a charge of 50 cents per month whenever an account for the month showed an average balance of less than $50. The local banks have had this proposition made to them frequently during the past two years, and have as frequently refused to institute it.

Rate Remains at 7

That the Santa Ana and Orange banks had declined to change the minimum rate of interest from 7 to 8 per cent and that they had refused to institute the 50-cent service charge, as it is called, was brought out at the monthly meeting of the Orange County Bankers' association at La Habra last night. Bankers of the two cities held a meeting Wednesday evening for a consideration of a number of proposals for charges for services rendered by banks. The decision of these bankers was reported to the county association last night.

A number of charges for escrow work by banks outside of Santa Ana are to be submitted to the individual banks of the southern end of the county during the next month and taken up for action by the entire association at its next meeting, to be held at Olive.

One charge that was agreed should be paid by the customer of the bank is a charge for printing and binding check books. The banks will furnish the checks free of charge. Hitherto the local banks have shouldered the entire expense.

The local banks also refused to enter into an agreement to make an ironclad rule against opening its doors to customers before 9 a. m. or later than 3 p. m.

Say Rule Works

Bankers of the northern part of the county stated that they had been enforcing the rule and found that it worked very well. When their customers learned that it was impossible to gain admission to the bank after 3 o'clock by knocking on the door they got in the habit of getting to the bank before 3 o'clock. The only way a customer can get into a bank in the northern part of the county after 3 p. m. is to telephone to the bank and make arrangements for someone to open the door. The only other known way is for the customer to smash the door in, and so far none has resorted to that measure, though some, according to the northern end bankers, have come mighty near it.

While Santa Ana banks are not officially open until 10 o'clock, the practice of opening a side door and starting the transaction of business at 8 o'clock has grown into custom. Some of the local bankers say the custom has proven convenient rather than inconvenient, and they are in

R. P. Mitchell Hears No Complaints On His Recommendation

All Orange county school districts will become part of established high school districts in accordance with the new state law, according to R. P. Mitchell, county school superintendent.

He has prepared a schedule, assigning the various unaffiliated districts, which he will present to the county board at its next meeting, Tuesday, August 30. Complaints, if any, will be heard at this meeting.

"So far, I have heard no complaints," said Mitchell today. "As a matter of fact, I do not believe there will be any complaints."

The proposed schedule is as follows:

Santa Ana high school district to embrace Delhi, Paulino, Newport Beach, Harper-Fairview, Diamond and Greenville.

Tustin high school district: San Juan, El Toro, Laguna Beach and Trabuco.

Orange high school district: Peralta and Silverado.

Anaheim high school district: Laurel.

Fullerton already includes adjacent districts in its union high school.

JOHN AVAS HAS AN INTERESTING OLD PAPER

A Southern lady, on her way home from Philadelphia, passed through Harper's Ferry last week, with no less than a dozen revolvers stowed away under her crinoline.

This item is from the Personal column of the Weekly Chicago Times of the issue of Thursday, June 6, 1861. John Avas, old-time Santa Ana resident, and former city trustee, owns a copy of the historic sheet.

E. W. McComas was the editor of the "Democratic newspaper published every Thursday morning at 73 Dearborn street." There are no headlines on this particular issue, even though it was on the streets during the early days of the Civil War.

Eight columns wide, it gives the right-hand column of "page 1," where the sensations are spread, to poetry of the Rev. J. E. Carnes, "Hints to Volunteers—Keep Your Shoes Easy," and minor tragedies. The next three full columns tell in detail of "The Old School Presbyterian General Assembly," held in Philadelphia.

"The need of a permanent standing army" is the theme of an editorial quoted from the New York Times, while McComas informs his readers that due to conflicting reports he cannot say what is happening at Harper's Ferry.

Hungary and Italy were having trouble, according to foreign dispatches, while John C. Fremont was being put in command of the Western Forces. Only two states, Kentucky and Missouri, were left at the Frankfort Border State convention.

Charles Francis Adams had arrived in London as American ambassador, and editorial comment was to the effect that he had arrived not a minute too soon.

A communication from Townsend Harris, American minister in Japan, explaining his reason for refusing to leave his legation, as did other ministers, who feared assassination.

The body of Judge Stephen A. Douglas was waiting for burial. Says McComas: "We have not a word to say of the life of Judge Douglas. It is written on every page of history for the last quarter of a century; it is living in the hearts of the millions of his countrymen who have witnessed his career; it is known to every school boy in the land."

Italy wanted a loan of five hundred million francs from France, says a financial despatch. In this section of the paper appears:

The free population of the States and Territories is 27,460,000. If the specie were equally distributed, each person would receive $16.90. The amount of specie in the United States was $464,568,282.07.

Eggs—the market is well supplied and dull at 4½ and 5 cents a dozen.

Turkeys—8 cents pound. Hightwines—Salad of 75 barrels at 13 cents exchange; 100 barrels in lots 15 cents for currency at railroad valuation.

Butter—The market is well supplied and sales drag. We quote sales of 60 kegs common at 8c; 20 do poor at 7c; 18 do fair at 8½c; 25 do good at 9c. We quote extra good table at 10 and 12c.

Cheese—Market very dull and quotations hard to arrive at. Hamburg is quoted at 9 and 10c.

TEMPERANCE UNION PLANS FOR ACTIVITY

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 26.—A program of activity for the ensuing year was adopted by the national executive committee of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, calling for increased activity to obtain enforcement of the Eighteenth amendment, educational and Americanization campaigns. Bible study in the schools and teaching English as a "necessary avenue through which to promote American ideals and interpret prohibition."

The executive committee's session followed adjournment of the national convention.

A nation-wide observance of Armistice day as a day of prayer for world disarmament and of January 16 as national prohibition day with meetings to encourage law enforcement were urged.

SAYS DISTRICTS ARE HUNGRY FOR BOOKS

New County Librarian Reviews Situation as She Sees It

Rural districts of Orange county are hungry for books.

A keen edge has been put on their appetite by Miss Margaret E. Livingston, county librarian, who since her arrival here three weeks ago has toured the county as preparation for her active work.

The report Miss Livingston brings back to her headquarters in the office of the Farm bureau is that everyone she has visited is eager for the county free library to begin operations. Miss Livingston is full of enthusiasm for her work.

"From Brea to San Juan Capistrano I found people eager to take advantage of the library," said she. "Garden Grove union high school, San Juan Capistrano union high school, and San Juan Capistrano grammar school have signed resolutions merging their school library funds into the treasury of the county library."

"It must be announced emphatically that the county library will encroach in no way into the field of established libraries in or out of the incorporated communities. The county library is being organized solely for those people who are now being served by a regularly organized book distributing agency."

"The purpose of the county library is to cover territory within the county that at present is without library facilities. Library custodians will be appointed at the various branches, and the headquarters here in Santa Ana will supply these branches with books."

"The communities or districts will be called upon to furnish their own reading rooms and to keep them in operation for the time being."

"Later the county will take charge, that is, when the experimental stage is passed."

"Civic bodies, school trustees and others have been interested in the proposed library and will have charge of its operations in their districts."

"Books will be distributed to the branches as needed. Should one book only be needed at a time, one book will be sent, and if the call is for a large shipment, it will be sent as promptly as possible. We will send the books by mail, train, stage, by any means that will get them there."

"It is impossible to estimate how many books will be handled by the library. The books will come from so many sources. The addition of the school libraries, of those schools out of regularly established library districts that sign resolutions to combine with the county library, will materially increase the book supply."

"Colusa county, where I conducted an enterprise similar to this, had 20,000 books circulating through the county library to approximately 9000 people, according to the latest report. That was at the end of the library's fourth year."

"The money for the purchase of books and operation of the library will be decided upon by the county supervisors, following the tax levy in September. Until then, on the advice of the district attorney, no purchases will be made."

"It will be, therefore, probably late in October before the books are put into circulation. They must be catalogued before leaving this headquarters."

"The character of the books to be circulated will be decided upon by those who are going to read the books. Books will be purchased in line with requests from the various branches."

"In this respect, it is of interest to note the character of the branches. At Brea, with its large population of oil workers, a reading room is to be established. The men have considerable time to themselves in the evening, and they want the advantage of a reading room. At Seal Beach a reading room is not considered necessary."

CHARGES AGAINST WORSDELL DROPPED

Two felony charges brought against R. C. Worsdell of Huntington Beach have been dismissed on motion of the district attorney's office. The cases were set for preliminary hearing this afternoon.

One complaint was filed by W. A. Goodwin of Fullerton, who charged Worsdell with embezzlement of one unit of the Eden Syndicate, valued at $250. The other was sworn to by E. S. Scales of Brea, who charged Worsdell with passing a worthless check for $164.78.

It is understood that an investigation made by the district attorney's office cleared up the suspicion that Worsdell had committed the alleged offenses.

PLACER OIL CLAIM AT BEACH IS FILED

The first oil placer claim in Seal Beach has been located by Walter Merchant, of 1063 Isabel street, Los Angeles. Merchant has set his claim stake at Tidewater on the ocean front opposite the east end of the roller coaster. He calls the claim "Fisherman's Luck."

EXPERIENCED WOMAN TO HEAD EXHIBITION

Mrs. Florence Austin Chase is to be a lecturer and demonstrator at household economics exposition here.

AUTOS COLLIDE MAN ESCAPES BY JUMP

An attempt was being made today to salvage a Ford touring car belonging to Clarence Jiles, 702 Orange avenue, which was badly smashed in a collision with a Buick touring car driven by H. L. Sharp, at the intersection of First and Flower streets about 5 o'clock yesterday evening. Jiles, who sustained a slight injury to his left knee, was walking with a limp.

Sharp was going west on First street and carrying a bicycle on the running board of his machine. According to Constable Jesse Elliott and Motorcycle Officer Frank Stewart, who made an investigation, Sharp admitted that he was traveling at a rate of 25 miles per hour. Jiles was traveling south on Flower.

EDEN SAYS SPECIAL SESSION MAY NOT BE CALLED TILL SPRING

That legislators have no word yet as to when the special session of the legislature will be held was stated today by State Senator Walter Eden.

"When the legislature adjourned in May," said Eden, "it was understood that the governor would call the session just as soon as congress passed on the basis for representation in congress."

Congress has taken no action upon that matter. Until it does, we cannot re-district the congressional districts of the state.

"Personally, I am of the opinion that the special session will not be held until the middle of winter or early next spring."

The special session will probably be short. It may last only a week, as it is probable that it will transact no other business than that concerned with re-apportionment of the state into congressional, state senatorial, assembly, equalization and other districts.

There will be no session of the legislature other than the special session to consider re-apportionment until the regular session of the legislature in the spring of 1923.

BIG EXPOSITION ON HOUSEHOLD PROBLEMS IS WELCOMED

Woman Who Is to Lecture Has Happy Faculty of Success

COVERS MANY SUBJECTS

Women of County to Be Invited to Free Demonstrations

Interest grows daily in the series of lectures and demonstrations on home management to be given by Mrs. Florence Austin Chase, under the auspices of The Register, September 26 to 30.

Mrs. Chase, whose headquarters are in Chicago, has always found favor wherever she has appeared in a series of these lectures. Her friends are legion and are won to her partly by her charming personality and partly by her knowledge of home management and domestic science and her happy method of disseminating that knowledge.

For Mrs. Chase has the happy faculty of putting her messages over in a quietly effective way whose forcefulness cannot be denied.

At the Armory

The armory has been secured for the lectures and demonstrations to be given here every afternoon from September 26 to 30, and the merchants of the city are giving their hearty co-operation, with the result that the background for the lectures will be, to all intents and purposes, a modern and convenient home, furnished with all the daintiness and exquisite taste which a cultured young housewife would bring to bear in the furnishing of her own home.

The idea of the setting is to aid in the demonstration of what is correct in home fittings, and to that question Mrs. Chase brings all the knowledge of what is absolutely correct in fittings and all the small accessories that go so far toward making a true home.

While the problems of the housewife are Mrs. Chase's problems, yet her particular hobby is found in the manifold problems which face the young housewife.

Iron Out Problems

"Many of the misunderstandings of early married life could be so easily avoided if the little bride had a more thorough working knowledge of the home, and particularly the financing of it with due stress laid on the kitchen end of it," declares Mrs. Chase, who evidently believes in that first law of the newly wedded wife, "Feed the brute."

However, to hear out her statement of interest in the little new homes which are springing up daily all over the country, many of her suggestions which tend to simplify the duties of the home and make them more understandable, seem directly aimed at the modestly proper-clined to believe that it is mutually advantageous for bankers and patrons to open the door as early as possible.

Head's Address

In order to complete the day's business in an orderly manner, the local banks have been closing at 3 o'clock, or soon after. However, there has been no ironbound rule followed. Patrons understand that they ought to be in the bank by 3 o'clock, and few of them disregard this understanding.

The bankers heard an interesting and instructive address last night by Attorney H. C. Head of Santa Ana. Head's talk concerned the value of the chattel mortgage as a security.

"The chattel mortgage," said he, "under the law can be placed on growing crops and personal property excepting personal property that is not deliverable and property of personal adornment. It cannot be placed upon a merchant's stock, but can be placed upon his fixtures."

Head pointed out that a chattel mortgage is not a first lien on a crop if the crop is moved off the land upon which it is grown. If it is taken to a warehouse, the person holding a chattel mortgage must see to it that it is stored in his name. Otherwise the crop becomes subject to attachment and a lien prior to that of the chattel mortgage.

Getting Action

"There are only two ways of getting action on personal property as security," said Head. "One way is through the chattel mortgage and the other way is through possession. When you have security you must exhaust the security before you resort to other methods to satisfy your note. A bill of sale given as security is not a lien."

Head explained the effect the King bill will have on bank's taxes. The effect, he said, will be to raise the tax of 1.16 per cent on the value of the bank's capital stock to 1.45 per cent. The value of the capital stock is figured by adding the amount paid in to a pro rata of the surplus.

Following the meeting last night sandwiches, watermelon and coffee was served the visitors by the La Habrans.

ANAHEIM BOUT CARD PROMISES SOME PEP

Haymakers should land thick and fast at the Anaheim arena tonight when Jimmy Dime of San Diego and Battling Savage of Los Angeles hook up in the main event. The boys are classed as 175 pounders and are known as hard punchers. They should provide a kick to the evening's entertainment.

The bugs have been interested in watching the rise of Young Dudley, the colored Anaheim boxer, and according to Matchmaker Walter Abbey they will see him up against a good boy in Soly Trujillo tonight. Dudley looks better every time he starts. He has a punch, is clever and fast.

Joe Chaney, the little Whittier boy has become the idol of a good many ringers and he will have every reason to be if he can get by his fracas tonight with a win. He meets Clarence Rubidoux of Riverside, a brother of the famous Ad. Rubidoux battled last week at Anaheim and showed a lot of class. He should win tonight.

Tex Stovall and Jimmy Lloyd, both of Anaheim, clash in one of the preliminaries. Frank Ortez of Redlands and Emil Latschau get together in the other affair.

Jiles was taken to the office of a local physician by A. F. Smith.

The accident attracted a crowd of about 300 persons and it was some time before the wreckage was cleared away.

The travelers grew used to the game which was the sole meat in use for many weeks. Moose, caribou, mountain sheep, all were constantly on the bill of fare while beef, pork and mutton were conspicuously absent.

Far Across Country

It was from Fairbanks that the 370 mile trip across country to Valdez was made which won for the party the distinction of being the first to use the wonderful Richardson highway. In all the trip, they encountered barely a half dozen white people, and this at a season of the year when travel was comparatively easy.

Fram Valdez, the trip to Seward was made by boat and from Seward the party took the Anchorage railroad across the great glacier fields to the little city of Anchorage where they set sail for Seattle and home, a nine days' trip which they found full of interest as their boat stopped at all the Behring fish canneries to take on the loads of fish.

"How's Judge Cox?"

It was just after arriving at the little hotel in Anchorage that Miss Lasby had an amusing experience. Some guest at the hotel evidently seeing her register and recognizing her as one of those claiming Santa Ana, called out to her, "Hello, Santa Ana, how's Judge Cox?"

"The utter desolation of the country lies in its solitude," declared Miss Lasby. "Mile after mile of wide spaces with never a human habitation makes the country the very essence of loneliness. I could never have pictured to myself such primitive surroundings and such a lack of modern ways of living."

"Electricity is the sole modern touch, and with the wealth of power available, every little home that has any reason at all for being, is equipped with all the most modern electrical fittings that genius can devise and the owner can pay for."

Questions Answered

What should such a home contain? What hangings should be used to harmonize with certain furnishings? What china and silver should be selected for informal dinners? What pictures should one select and how should they be framed? What music should one choose? These and kindred questions are answered daily by Mrs. Chase, but beyond all the questions answered is the value of her ideas, freely given, regarding the foundation of each home, the economical running of it. The lectures to be given each afternoon during the week of her stay will be open to all the women of Orange county.

They will open at 2 o'clock and will last until 5, and during the three hours the subjects will be varied by actual demonstrations of cooking, not just fancy "party" dishes, but the palatable preparation of foods really essential for nourishment, and the dainty ways in which they may be served after cooking.

Each woman attending is requested to bring a notebook and a pencil to take down the recipes, while as a word of advice whispered into feminine ears, is the final, "Slip a saucer and a spoon into your bag—you will be glad you have them."

The exposition will include exhibits by merchants, producers of food-stuffs and manufacturers of articles of household use.

Anas who give as their reason, the fact that since mining has been the greatest resource, and placer mining is practically exhausted, there remains only the dredger and the hydraulic methods, and these are prohibitive because of the expense involved in getting the necessary paraphernalia on the grounds. This leaves out the question of the wood pulp industry which is in its infancy, but upon which the future of Alaska will largely depend.

"Considering that in a territory which is one-third the size of the United States, there is only 500 miles of railroad, the development of the country is a matter of the remote future" was the opinion advanced by Miss Lasby.

$250,000 DEAL IN ANAHEIM REALTY

ANAHEIM, Aug. 26.—Ross Bros., of the Orange County Realty company have just completed a realty deal totaling $250,000, in which they have disposed of their new brick bungalow-court on Clementine street. Plans will be completed in a few days for another bungalow-court on a lot 46x155 just north of the court which has been sold. The new court will include eight four-room apartments, making it a little more than half as large as the one sold. The style of architecture will be similar. It will face Chertness street.

The new owner of the court which has been sold is Isaac N. Glover, of Los Angeles, who disposed of a fine, full-bearing orange and walnut grove on the boulevard near Whit-tier.

This orange and walnut grove goes to J. G. Delozier who disposes to Ross Brothers one of the finest 100-acre ranches in the Imperial valley, on the boulevard near El Centro. It is highly improved with fine, two-story house, fences, etc. It has been considered one of the show ranches of the valley.

$610 Monthly Income
For this court in addition to the ranch, Ross Brothers receive a considerable sum of money. The court, which was in an income of $610 a month, was valued at $70,000 in the exchange.

Another deal was the sale of a ten-acre lemon and valencia grove at Yorba Linda by Frank Gaudin to Delozier and Colvin who gave as part consideration a 160-acre ranch near Holtville, Imperial valley. The balance was cash.

$100,000 in Realty
The sale of the court by Ross Brothers makes a total of more than $100,000 worth of apartment and residence property they have constructed and sold within the last year. Practically all the building material was purchased locally, the lumber from Gibbs Lumber company, plumbing from F. H. Garrison, electric wiring and fixtures from Holland company and Anaheim Electric company. All the painting was done by Anaheim contractors.

Homes for Thirty-five
This construction has made homes for thirty-five families who wouldn't otherwise have been able to reside here.

J. E. Hamlin, with twenty years experience in building, a recent comer from Freeport, Ill., where he built most of the larger buildings, directed construction of the court. His work was considered so satisfactory that the Los Angeles Brick company sent representatives here to inspect it and recently a picture of the court was featured in an advertisement for the brick company was published in the Southwestern Contractor.

The brick company officials declared the court is the most up-to-date and well built of any they have seen in Southern California.

POPULAR YOUNG FOLK UNITED IN MARRIAGE

Tuesday evening, August 23, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Best on the San Joaquin ranch was the scene of the marriage of their daughter, Miss Jessie Perla Best, to Winfred Childs Whitehead.

Mr. Whitehead was one of the pioneers of the Fairview Farms tract, in Costa Mesa, and is actively interested in all community questions. He is also president of the Local Workers Sunday school class.

The Rev. W. Rowntree of the Friends church officiated. The impressive ceremony in the home circle, with the bride's father, and mother, her grandfather, Newton W. Best, and her four brothers, Everett, Elliott, Stanton and Ralph, was made complete by the presence of the groom's father and mother, Dr. and Mrs. T. C. Whitehead, of Castrolville, Texas.

The heart love, stirred to its depth by the first break in the home ties as the only daughter was given to another, was bravely camouflaged in the pleasant merriment of the evening.

A delicious collation was served, while reminiscences were told from the time of the journey of the grandfather, 53 years ago, from Nova Scotia to California by way of Panama.

Then "good-byes" were said, and the happy couple left for an automobile trip through California and Oregon, to visit Yosemite, the Big Trees and other places of interest. Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Whitehead will make their home on the Fairview Farms tract, Costa Mesa.

NEW CALIFORNIA THEATER IN TUNE WITH COUNTY'S PROGRESS

ANAHEIM, Aug. 26.—"The New California theater, when completed, will undoubtedly be one of the finest show houses on the entire Pacific coast if not in the entire West." This was the statement made here by Jack Retlaw, managing director of the new theater, who will be in charge of the beautiful structure, as representative of the West Coast Theaters, Inc., its operators.

For the last two weeks, Retlaw has been in Anaheim getting his staff and other details lined up ready for the opening which, he asserted, would be about Sept. 15.

Swope resident manager
Among other things he announced that Perk Swope, a native of this city and brother of J. Leslie Swope, present excited ruler of the local Elks lodge, would be the resident manager, Swope lived for many years in Anaheim, graduating from the high school here, only to leave in 1917 to enter the service during the recent World War.

For some time past, Swope has been employed at the Kinema theaters, Los Angeles, another of the West Coast Theaters Inc. string of theatres. He has numerous friends in Anaheim who will rejoice in his appointment as local manager of the new theater.

Local Employees
Aside from the usherettes and cashiers, all of whom are local girls, Retlaw announced the appointment of William Moes as projection engineer, in active charge of the splendid operating booth, Mr. Moes, is considered among the premier projectionists of Southern California.

The final details regarding the management and future policies of the California theater, as well as the concluding arrangements for last minute work were discussed in detail last Saturday when Mr. Gore, president of the West Coast Theatre Inc., general manager of the same corporation; Art Smith, chief projectionist and electrical expert; Robert E. Powers, consulting decorator for the company, and regarded as one of the most brilliant minds in America on the particular line of work; A. F. Fleming representing the C. F. Weber company of Los Angeles, who is responsible for the seating arrangements, and Retlaw went over the situation minutely.

Beautiful interior
Much of the beautiful interior decorative effect was originated by Mrs. Gore, regarded as a connoisseur in art effects. She lent her able advice and the result has been astounding. The wondrous tinting, something entirely new in theatrical design, was her own conception. Experts who have viewed the work under way have pronounced it unique and a tremendous forward stride in theatre decoration.

Already arrangements are progressing on the installation of the mighty Wurlitzer pipe and orchestra organ, while the finishing touches are being put on the interior in preparation for the laying of the concrete floor; the lobby and foyer, and the front designs.

Best Productions
The new uniforms decided upon for the attractive usherettes will be mouse colored and chic in design. Gore in commenting upon the furnishing declared that only the costliest of materials is being used.

Many Anaheim theatregoers are naturally wondering just what sort of entertainment will be presented at the new house. According to Retlaw, only the best pictures the market affords will be shown. Vaudeville of the very highest quality will be presented, and with the ample stage and scenic as well as new lighting facilities, local folk will be given presentations that would do credit to any theatre in Los Angeles or anywhere else.

Artistic Illumination
With the great size of the auditorium proper, as well as the commodious seating arrangements, it is believed that everyone will be accommodated without delay.

In describing the unusual interior lighting arrangements, Mrs. Gore explained that as the indirect lights projected through highly colored silk, plays upon the varied-colored ceiling and side walls, giving a luster seldom seen outside of great cinema palaces, the effect will be one that Anaheim patrons will not soon forget. Thus one is afforded ample lighting without detracting from the projection of the picture or other presentation, and during the periods when the house is entirely lighted, the scene will be one of undue brilliancy.

WINTERSBURG

WINTERSBURG & SMELTZER, Aug. 26.—The funeral of Carlton Crane, who was well known to numbers here, having been a former resident of Wintersburg, was largely attended by local friends. The service, which was conducted by the Rev. Mr. Seamans, a former pastor of the Wintersburg Methodist church was held at the Bundschu chapel at Huntington Beach at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon and interment followed at the Huntington Beach cemetery by the side of a brother who passed away several years ago.

Mrs. Bowman sang beautifully the two lovely songs, "Face to Face," and "Rock of Ages," being accompanied by Mrs. Laurence Worthy. Bearers of the casket, who were all of this community were: Bert Gohard, Frank Ulrich, Will Slater, Horace Moore, Fred Mallette and Chris Nelson.

Carlton Crane was a native of Kansas and was forty-eight years of age at the time of his death, which occurred last Sunday morning at his home on Suisun Island, Northern California. He leaves to mourn his departure, his wife, Mrs. Mamie Crane, a four-year old son, Charles, and a thirteen months old baby daughter, Ruth, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Crane, one brother, Bloomer Crane of Suisun, and one sister, Mrs. Ethel Warner, of Westminster. Death came very suddenly, due to appendicitis.

The father, A. B. Crane, Mr. and Mrs. Bloomer Crane and their children, the wife and children, accompanied the body here for burial, arriving Tuesday morning. Mrs. Mamie Crane and children and a nurse who accompanied them to care for the latter have been at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Gerhart since their arrival.

COSTA MESA

COSTA MESA, Aug. 26.—Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Clark left Friday for a few days' visit with Mr. and Mrs. O. T. Anderson at Chatsworth.

Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. Clark and Mr. and Mrs. Anderson drove to Ventura and spent the night, and Sunday visited Ojai, Oxnard, Camarillo and over the Conejo grade and returned by the way of Owensmouth to Chatsworth evening.

William Butram sustained severe injuries Sunday evening when he was struck by a large wrench thrown from a rotary rig where he was working. He was taken to the hospital at Anaheim, where it was found he had ribs broken. After receiving attention at the hospital he was removed to the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Butram, and Mrs. Ed Bennett were genuinely surprised Thursday evening on answering a knock on the door of their apartment in Long Beach, to find the entire L. W. S. S. class of Costa Mesa in the corridor demanding admittance and an apology for getting married without consulting the class.

The happy couple gave them a warm welcome and gave the class their solemn promise they would not "repeat the offense."

PARADE OF BATHING GIRLS, SEPTEMBER 18

SEAL BEACH, Aug. 26.—Seal Beach is planning an Intercommunity Bathing Girls' Revue to be given on Sunday, September 18, under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce.

It is to be entirely different from the ordinary event of this kind, for everything that savors of professionalism will be eliminated. There is to be no hiring of motion picture actresses, nor will any of the prize winners be selected in advance.

The contest will be for girls of Orange county and vicinity. This will include Long Beach, Artesia, Downey, Norwalk and other places quite close to the Orange county line. Los Angeles girls will not be permitted to enter unless it is shown that Seal Beach is their favorite bathing beach.

It is planned by the Chamber of Commerce to have three judges—one from Santa Ana, one from Anaheim and one from Long Beach. The prizes will be awarded to the girls who look the nicest in their bathing suits.

There will also be prizes for the communities represented by the largest number of girls. Entry blanks may be had by addressing Chairman of the Special Events Committee, or Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, Seal Beach, Calif.

ACHIEVEMENT IN TUNNELING IS OUTLINED

"One of the biggest pieces of railroad construction work attempted in the West in recent years has just been completed by the Southern Pacific company in the work of enlarging and lining with concrete the tunnels on our line in the Tehachepi mountains, north of here," said L. B. Valla, district freight and passenger traffic agent of the Southern Pacific here, today.

The work entailed an expenditure of about $1,000,000 and extended over a period of five years. The work was carried on without delay to trains, despite the fact that this stretch of railroad from Bakersfield to Tehachepi, forty-eight miles in length, is the busiest single track railroad in the United States.

About 110,000 sacks of cement, 1,500,000 lineal feet of reinforcing steel and 45,000 tons of concrete gravel were used.

"It is noteworthy," said Valla, "that during the entire period of five years of construction there was no serious accident in connection with the construction itself."

Out of eighteen tunnels on the Tehachepi grade, sixteen have been enlarged and concreted and two have been eliminated.

This stretch of track is operated jointly by the Southern Pacific company and the Santa Fe, and runs from the floor of the San Joaquin valley to the summit of the Tehachepi mountains. In the busiest time of the year as many as eighty-seven trains have been operated over this section, and as high as 1287 freight cars, fourteen passenger trains and eight freight trains are scheduled daily.

Prior to 1916 these tunnels were of small bore and timber lined except for about 1000 feet of solid rock section. The railroad was built in 1876, and it became very evident in 1916 that, after forty years of use, it would be necessary to enlarge tunnels and make very extensive repairs in order to cope with the immense amount of business and the very great increase in the size of power and equipment. Repairs of an ordinary nature were very expensive and caused a great deal of delay to traffic, and the danger of fire and cave-in had to be reckoned with.

After thoroughly reviewing the situation it was decided, in the fall of 1916, to enlarge all of the tunnels to a minimum horizontal section of sixteen feet on tangent and seventeen feet on curve, and to a minimum overhead clearance of twenty-two feet.

On account of the density of traffic ordinary methods of concreting by hand seemed impractical and it was decided to adopt the pneumatic method, by which the concrete is blown into place by means of machinery located at some convenient place outside the tunnel. To further facilitate the work, and save expense steel frames, twenty feet in length, were used, which were moved on tracks of their own, from one point to another as a section of concrete was completed. After the organization was fully familiar with its working conditions, it was possible to complete 100 feet per week. On an average it would take from two to three weeks to set up all the equipment preparatory to doing the work and another two or three weeks to tear it all down and move it to the next tunnel. Where tunnels were close together one set-up would do for two tunnels.

Of a total length of 6979 feet of tunnel, there is now 5964 feet of concrete lined section and 1015 feet of rock section.

HINDU IS DEPORTED BY VISALIA MOB

VISALIA, August 26.—A band of twenty white laborers appeared at the ranch of A. Francis in the Outler district, fifteen miles north of here, and deported a Hindu workman from the place in an automobile. The white workers called on Francis and told him they would not stand idly by and permit employment of Hindu grape pickers while white men are out of work. Francis discharged all Hindus working for him, it was said, but one wandered back and was taken away by the white workers.

DISPUTE AIRED IN JUSTICE'S COURT

Justice of the Peace Cox today has under advisement the civil action brought by R. E. Joyce against T. M. Gilmore to collect $100.35, alleged to be due as rent on a house at 335 McFadden street, Santa Ana, and expenses incident to taking the house over by Joyce.

The case was aired in the justice court here yesterday afternoon and several witnesses were called to the stand. The plaintiff and defendant entered into an agreement last December whereby they were to exchange certain property. It was stipulated that Joyce was to take possession of the Gilmore home on February 21, or thirty days after the transfer was filed in escrow. Gilmore did not move as soon as Joyce expected and for that Joyce asks rental of $3 a day.

Joyce testified that Gilmore still had some of his household goods, including a piano, organ and kitchen range in the house on the day that he was to take possession. The defendant admitted that much but said that he could not remove these articles on the 21st because it was raining on that day. The removal was on the following day, Gilmore testified.

The plaintiff also claimed that Gilmore left the house in an untidy condition and that he labored for three days cleaning up the debris about the yard. Joyce also asserted that certain lighting fixtures were removed by the defendant who declared that the fixtures were removed nearly two years before the exchange was talked of.

Joyce also claimed that Gilmore agreed to remove a large barn from the property and that he did not get it out of the way at the time specified. Gilmore claimed that he could not remove the barn because a ditch had been dug in the street adjacent to the barn and that it was impossible to roll the barn over the ditch. He said that when he did attempt to move the barn the rollers got stuck in the ditch and it took considerable time and labor to get it out.

Otto Sanaker was attorney for Joyce and G. K. Scovel attorney for Gilmore.

START POURING CONCRETE NEXT THURSDAY

The subgrade practically was completed to Tenth street today. Crews are now working on sections north of Tenth street.

It is understood that the first work of pouring concrete will be from Seventh north to Tenth street, with paving going in on the east side of the P. E. tracks when the west side is completed.

West Side First
It is stated that George R. Curtis, the contractor, prefers to complete the west side of the street clear to the city limits before paving on the east side, and, it is said, without authority, however, that Curtis will carry out this latter plan if the work of public utilities is completed on the west side of the tracks in time for the sub-grade to be made in advance of the progress of the mixer.

Curtis is expecting to put on a mixer capable of pouring concrete over the half-street for a distance of about 500 lineal feet per day. Conduits for the ornamental lights are being laid in the street at the edge of the gutter on both sides. It was stated today by a representative of the J. G. Robertson company, which has the contract for installing the system, that the conduits could be laid on the west side of the street its full length so this work will not interfere with the paving contractor. If other conditions are such that he can pour concrete on the west side of the street through to the northern city limits it will doubtless be done.

P. E. Repairs Next
When pavement is completed on both sides of the car tracks the Pacific Electric right of way will require attention. It is expected the railway company will make the repairs immediately upon completion of the paving job.

It is said that it is not the intention of the city council to force the railway company to improve its right of way with the same class of pavement that is being used on the street.

The street on each side of the P. E. strip is to be improved under the Curtis contract with seven-inch reinforced concrete, without top surface.

NATURAL GAS RATE RAISES ALLOWED

Southern California Gas company, supplying Riverside and San Bernardino with natural gas, was granted increases of 5 and 10 cents per thousand cubic feet by the railroad commission today.

The increase in Riverside was 5 cents and in San Bernardino 10 cents.

The rates were made higher in San Bernardino because of greater distribution cost and because of a local franchise tax of 2 cents imposed by that city.

In surrounding unincorporated territory the rates were made approximately 10 cents per 1000 higher than the Riverside rate.

Special rates were established for industrial service. These rates are 36 cents per 1000 cubic feet for the first 500,000 cubic feet and 30 cents for all over 500,000 cubic feet.

The commission found that the higher heating value of natural gas resulted in a material reduction of consumption while the company's operating expenses have increased. A return of 9 per cent is allowed the company upon the fair valuation of its properties. In allowing this rate the commission said:

"In view of the present high cost of borrowed money it appears just and reasonable to permit a return of 9 per cent in this particular case, especially when consideration is given to the great hazard attaching to the service of natural gas and to the fact that applicant has made special efforts to reduce the cost of gas service to its consumers by the effecting of substantial economies."

To the Business and Professional Men of Santa Ana: The Western Mercantile Agency of San Bernardino, a business of law and collections everywhere, have opened a branch office in the Ford building at 520 1/2 North Main street. Office No. 1. Phone 1870-J. Marion R. Shippe, local manager.

EPES RANDOLPH CLOSE FRIEND OF MAN HERE

"In the death of Epes Randolph, I lost a good friend. I was a foreman under him twenty-four years ago when he was division superintendent of the Southern Pacific at Tucson," declared Oliver T. Roseberry, today, as his thoughts traveled down the dim vista of receding years, and he was again, for the moment, one of the old-time "railroad boys."

"I remember well the time in 1897 when we had a cloudburst that washed out a bridge and a lot of track between Stien's Pass and San Simon. I worked day and night with my gang, losing so much sleep that I ruined the optic nerve, rendering me unfit for railway service. But Mr. Randolph has at all times been my friend and he always found some nice way to express his friendship for me, too."

Round-Trip Pass
"In 1907 when I was down in Mexico, at Navajo, Mr. Randolph's special passed through. A few days later I started back to the United States. En route, at Hermosillo the conductor of the train informed me that the trainmaster at Navajo wanted to know where an important letter could reach me. I told him at Nogales, Arizona. Upon my arrival at Nogales I received the letter which was from Mr. Randolph requesting me to come on to Tucson. He had enclosed a round trip ticket for me from Navajo, Mexico, to Tucson, Arizona."

Upon his arrival at Tucson, Roseberry explained, he found that Mr. Randolph was anxious to secure information from him regarding certain conditions in Mexico, but that he had been suddenly called to Los Angeles. However, he discussed the Mexican matters with Mr. Randolph's secretary, Mr. Archer, and later received a most cordial letter of appreciation from Mr. Randolph.

Visit to Chief
A year ago last April when Roseberry was in Arizona, representing the circulation department of the Los Angeles Times, as he does the same department of The Register at the present time, he enjoyed a most interesting visit with his former chief, whom he had not met for several years, although a steady correspondence had been maintained between them during the period.

Tenderly reminiscent and with the intonations of his voice expressing his affectionate regard for his beloved friend, Roseberry continued: "I had a nice, long visit with Mr. Randolph at that time. He was very kind to me, and sociable. I had an opportunity, too, to learn the truth about something that interested me. I had heard various people say that the S. P. owned a large portion of the Los Angeles Times-Mirror stock. Colonel Randolph said to me: 'Who really owns the Times?'"

"I replied that it was generally believed that Harry Chandler and his wife owned the most of it. But, how much of it does the Southern Pacific own?"

"The Colonel's face expressed surprise and he said: 'Not a dollar, Oliver. Years ago the Southern Pacific did have some newspaper interests in the northern part of California, but when Mr. Harriman got the system and came out to Los Angeles, he told us to get out of the newspaper business at once and we did so. I know for I am the man who disposed of those interests.'"

Roseberry recalled how Mr. Randolph had expressed his desire to help him if ever the need arose and in concluding said:

"Colonel Randolph was a good man and a just official. The world would be better if there were more men like him."

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA
OXNARD.—Now that the sugar factory has announced the average selling price of sugar for the year ending July 31 as being just a trifle under 9 cents, and calling it 9 cents, there is an unpleasant aftermath for those growers who had received pay. This aftermath is a bill sent by the factory and a polite invitation to remit.

OWENSMOUTH.—According to D. J. Deaux of the Marian Milling company, the prospects for the best bean crop ever raised in the valley are good at present.

REDLANDS.—The value of the best made to the University of Redlands in the will of the late Senator A. T. Currier has been placed at between $120,000 and $150,000. The will gives to the university a one-third interest in the Currier ranch at Walnut, the total value of which is estimated at between $350,000 and $500,000. The total value of the Currier estate is in excess of $1,000,000.

SAN BERNARDINO.—Fire, which did damage to the extent of $5000, destroyed the mill plant of the Pine Lumber company at Big Bear last week. The fire was of unknown origin and burned the entire equipment of the plant, which has been cutting on an average of 60,000 feet of lumber a day. The company is owned jointly by J. G. Strawser and H. J. Boehm of San Bernardino.

YUCAIPA.—Picking of apples in Yucaipa and Devore districts is beginning this month, and indications are that the crops in each locality will be the largest in history. At Yucaipa, it is estimated over half a million boxes will be shipped, while Devore, where there are approximately 150 acres of bearing trees, there will be about 10,000 boxes.

Packing has already begun at Devore, and the entire output is contracted for by the California Fruit exchange. All apples will go out of the state and probably to the Atlantic coast. A good price is expected. Yucaipa growers expect to sell for about 4 cents per pound and will make an effort to market much of their product locally.

RIVERSIDE.—Doves will be scarce this year, according to local authorities. Predictions have been made that there will be many disappointed hunters after the opening of the season. Quail also will be found scarce this year. However, hunters should not be downhearted, for there is every indication of an excellent duck season.

EVENING SALUTATION

"Let us live for those who love us,
And for those who know us true,
For the Heaven that bends above us
And the good that we can do,
For the wrongs that need resistance,
For the cause that lacks assistance,
For the future in the distance,
And the good that we can do."

CONSTITUTION DAY, SEPT. 17

Constitution Day falls on September 17. The president-general of the D. A. R. has sent out a message to all the branches of that organization of patriotic women asking that the day have special observance, for she holds it no less important an anniversary than July 4. It is hoped that the example set by the D. A. R. will have a general following throughout the nation.

There are many loyal and patriotic Americans to whom the Constitution is little more than a scrap of paper so far as any real knowledge of its contents is concerned.

There are sarcastic citizens who love to speak lightly of America and her institutions, though practicing good citizenship, otherwise, who would have their foolish tongues stilled by a careful perusal of that great document and a little honest consideration of the growth which has taken place under it.

There are aliens who will be made either loyal Americans or dangerous enemies accordingly as they see America.

If they can be taught to understand the Constitution and all that it guarantees and permits, the road to citizenship will lie plain before them.

The President of the D. A. R. is right in feeling that the date is important, for the Constitution made workable the ideals on which the nation is founded. It is the instrument by which the workmen shaping the fate of America, give concrete expression to the idea in their minds. It permits freedom, yet prevents license, and a better knowledge of it means a great respect for the Constitution itself and for the nation whose guide it is.

There would be less criticism of moving picture shows by some of their patrons if the producers didn't insist on calling them "dramas." Now and then there happens to be somebody in the audience who knows what drama is.

THE LEAGUE'S CHANCE

A severe blow was dealt to the League of Nations when the Allies revived their supreme Council. That body, an informal council of the premiers of the four leading allied powers, with the President of the United States or his representative, was formed during the war for quick, effective action in vital matters. It was expected to die a natural death when the Versailles treaty went into effect. The League of Nations Council was looked upon as its natural heir. The situation was changed, however, when the United States refused to enter the league. Without this country, it was assumed that the league lacked the requisite power and prestige for effective action, whatever its powers might be in theory. At Lloyd George's suggestion, therefore, the Supreme council resumed its sittings. It meets still whenever there is occasion, and in recent months has had the participation of the United States, represented by Ambassador Harvey, in matters concerning this country.

The Supreme council's authority is not questioned today any more than it was during the war, although it has never been authorized by any parliament or congress, and amounts to an irresponsible super-government, if there is any such thing.

So much by way of record. These facts have a practical bearing on the recent decision of the Supreme council referring the Silesian dispute to the council of the League of Nations. It is the sort of thing that the League council was intended for.

Regardless of what anyone may think of the league, this should bring a certain satisfaction to every believer in representative government. The League council is directly responsible to the eight nations it represents, and indirectly to the remaining 40 nations that belong to the league. Its findings, therefore, are likely to be more generally acquiesced in than would be the decision of an arbitrary group of four statesmen. It also offers to the League council an excellent opportunity to make good in a big issue that threatens the peace of Europe. If the League handles this job well, observers may feel that it is really going to amount to something.

The railroads might try raising rates higher yet, thus generously putting the automobile industry under still more obligation to them.

MORE CONGRESSMEN?

The 1920 census figures would have meant an increase of members in the House of Representatives from 435 to more than 500, if the old basis of apportionment were kept. The census committee of the House submitted a bill providing for an increase of 48, making the total 483. The House turned down this proposal, deciding to maintain the old limit.

It was a rare exhibition of common sense where ordinarily nothing would be expected but politics. Congress, as the public well knows, and as congressmen themselves know better than anybody else, has grown too unwieldy for its own good. Numbers impede constructive action. The House sometimes seems more like a legislative mob than what it should be, a council of statesmen. It would be far better to reduce the personnel than to enlarge it, if that were practicable.

Now, months after the public supposed the matter had been definitely settled, the House census committee has come forward again with a recommendation increasing the membership to 460, by way of compromise. An increase of 25 congressmen is not so bad as an increase of 48, but it will be hard to persuade the general public that any increase at all is justifiable.

California's increase in population entitles the state to an increase in its proportionate representation. The question of basic population is of great interest here for the reason that re-districting of the state to a large extent depends upon it. If the state is given a number of new congressmen Orange county may be placed in a district with San Diego, Imperial and Riverside counties only.

If the state is given eleven congressmen, the number it now has, the district may also include San Bernardino county.

This county's position as a matter of strategic alignment will be bettered if the number of congressmen is not increased. It is generally conceded that Orange county will be better off politically if the present congressional district is retained almost as it is—that is, to include San Bernardino county—than it would be if it is thrown into a district easily dominated by San Diego.

Somebody wants to know what becomes of discarded inner tubes. Ask the tobacco trust.

May Be This School Fits Him

Visalia Times

Do you know a boy who has a good mind, good will power, good health, good energy, but who will not attend an elementary school, and who cannot attend a high school?

He would and should attend a school where he can be trained for the vocation he best fits, says the state superintendent of public instruction, Will C. Wood, pointing out an overlooked opportunity as follows:

"Is there such a school in California? There is. It is the California Polytechnic school. It will accept such a boy, and give him the kind of training he wants and needs. Not many Californians know that there is a state school where boys who are not graduates of an elementary school will be admitted, and will be given vocational training. Vocational training means fitting a boy for the vocation in which he will do his best work, in which he will be a real producer, and an asset in any community in which he may live.

"Not many Californians know that the California Polytechnic School at San Luis Obispo fits young people for the various vocations in industry and in agriculture. It is not intended to draw boys from the high schools, but to provide, with its half million dollar equipment, practical training for the type of boy described here.

"The California Polytechnic school is a state school, and will accept any boy who wants vocational training to enable him to qualify for the position he best fits, in industry, in agriculture, or in the commercial world; provided he has the mental capacity to profit by the training the school can give him.

"It is not necessary that the boy have an elementary school diploma, or any other paper evidence. The Polytechnic California school was established by act of Legislature to furnish to young people of the state vocational training that will fit them for the non-professional vocations for which they are training their students.

"The school is prepared to enroll for the coming year about 300 students. It is suggested that the boy who wishes to avail himself of the opportunity offered him at this school write immediately for further information and an application blank, that he may not be denied admission on account of lack of space."

A Fitting Monument

Visalia Times

The little French village of Belleau, which stood on the foothills of Belleau Wood, will be rebuilt by Americans, as a memorial to the American dead who fell in battle near that historic spot, says the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, which makes the following apt comment on this kind of a memorial:

"There were only about 85 houses in the village before it was destroyed by the fierce fighting which ranged from Chateau-Thierry along the Marne when American troops repulsed the last German drive in the summer of 1918. On a hillside, near where the village stood, rows of white crosses mark the graves of the American dead.

"Memorials of some description are erected after every war to commemorate the heroism of those who laid down their lives in the defense of their country or for the things they held sacred. This is something more than a custom, for a memorial is a tangible object to which people, or future generations of that people, may comprehend the courage and character of the past, which otherwise, must in part be forgotten. But the memorial village of Belleau will be of a new kind. It will not only be raised in commemoration of the dead, but will repair a scene of devastation for the living. And it will be erected at the very place where three years ago the battle was in progress during the course of which those Americans, whose graves are near at hand, were swallowed up in death's maelstrom.

"A memorial is significant and fitting to the extent that it is full and complete expression of the sentiment that it is intended to represent. No finer memorial could be erected, though sculptors and architects labored for years in constructing it, than the one which will be built at the village of Belleau. Monuments of stone always lack something that is essential to symbolize perfectly our reverence for the dead. But this village, which will partake of the very life and breath of a people, and at the same time stand not far from the graves of many Americans, will be the most adequate tribute to their memory that human hands could design."

They Will Not End Wars

San Francisco Chronicle

Our naval aviators have been dropping bombs on a few German battle ships, and succeeded in sending all to the bottom of the sea, where they belong. The details are not given. We do not know how many bombs it took per ship, or whether they were at anchor, drifting or zigzagging by radio. But one thing is certain, not one of them was fighting back or dodging bombs with the energy with which the immensity of bombs would inspire any crew.

The verdict of the officers who witnessed the experiments is to the effect that bombing planes which we can make, possibly, at the cost of half a million dollars a dozen, and need crews, including replacements, only of a dozen or so apiece, will not enable us to get rid of 40,000,000 battle ships with their crews of a thousand or more each.

On the contrary, apparently, we must build bigger and stouter battleships and more of them, and in addition create and maintain an aerial equipment and force bigger than that of any other nation.

Wars are to come higher than ever, and each of us will have less and less money each year with which to buy shoes for the children or go to the movies. As Puck correctly exclaimed, "What fools these mortals be!"

COLLECT PEOPLE

As we walk further into life, the people we meet along the way mean so much more to us.

When we start out we take them for granted. But soon we begin to draw on them. We see things in them that we lack and want. And so, like the mixing of one fluid with another, we become a part of them and they a part of us.

What finer are is what a score or a hundred—or a thousand—other people have already been.

I ran into a friend of mine today who told me that he began years ago to keep a list of interesting and helpful people whom he met. And every once in a while he would send them interesting notes of some sort or other. He told me that he now had a list of more than 4000 names, and in this list were those who had inspired him through his business career and brought happiness to him in his personal life.

What finer business could one be in than collecting people? Material losses, after all, are but temporary. But when we lose a friend—at the nod of one of God's Angels, or because of a misunderstanding, or for whatever reason—it does seem as though the whole world shrinks a little.

I never tire of people. Even the worst are good.

It's because we are all both good and bad—and feel the warmth of other people's urge behind every pulse-beat that is ours.

I have learned one thing about people, at least. It is this—if you have a friend, the best way to keep him is to see the good that is there and let the rest alone.

Better than the collecting of antiques, old china, lace or anything, is to collect people—and then to bind them to you with ropes of love and service in their behalf.

The Velvet Hammer

BY A. B. B.

The needed regulation of the noted human race is not a simple project for a tyro to embrace. It calls for men with intellect unusually blessed—such persons, for example, as Attorney L. A. West, who links the laws of logic with the statutory lines and readily accomplishes his laudable designs.

He gathered in Kentucky his commanding height and air and West brought west a head well dressed in white and striking hair. As district prosecutor he refined the atmosphere and laid the large foundation for popular career, and now with private practice so ably stirring round; he's every inch a lawyer and a man in every pound.

He has a moral focus which is righteous and acute. For social good behavior he is glad to boost and root. He struggles with the Methodists our planet to repress and save it from the sad effects of crime and wickedness. He's made a long and lovely list of firm and faithful friends who have a world of confidence in every word he sends.

THESE THINGS I LOVE

These things I love, and they are friends to me—
A pearl-pink east above the summer sea,
A cold green sunset over snow-waved fields,
The earthly incense that the furrow yields.

These things I love because they bring me peace—
The hush that comes when evening bird songs cease,
The setting moon above the mountain wall,
The drift of leaves across the road in fall.

These things I love because they are so fair—
My woodland path through banks of maidenhair,
The shad bush shining in the naked wood,
The mountain hiding in its cloudy hood.

These things I love, but more than all the rest
I love the longing and the eager quest
For beauty dreamed, that makes us still aspire
Beyond the world rim to the heart's desire.

How Is Your Health?

"TOOK IT BY MISTAKE"

In treating cases of poisoning from drugs, we should try, first, to get rid of the poison; second, to administer an antidote; third, to relieve such symptoms as may appear.

To get rid of the poison make the patient vomit freely. Tickling the throat is a simple method. A tablespoonful of syrup of ipecac is excellent.

In poisoning by ACIDS, after vomiting has been induced, give a little ammonia diluted with water, or give soap, lime, chalk, whitewash, wood-ashes or lime-water, or other alkali. In poisoning from BICHLORIDE of MERCURY, after vomiting has been induced, give raw eggs and milk, castor oil, etc. Stimulate the patient.

In poisoning by ARSENIC (found in rat poisons, vermin killer, paris green) after vomiting has been induced, give milk, raw eggs or castor oil and stimulants.

In poisoning by OPIUM, LAUDANUM, MORPHINE OR PAREGORIC (found in many soothing syrups and cough mixtures), give hot, strong coffee or tea. Keep the patient awake, walking him around the room. If necessary, use artificial respirations.

Always send for a doctor at once, and instruct the messenger to tell the doctor what is wrong. If possible, tell the doctor the name of the poison.

NERVOUSNESS

I have two children a year apart, and since the last one was born I don't feel well. I have several doctors and nerve specialists and they said there is nothing wrong with me but nervousness. My back pains me all the time, and I can't work much, as I get tired easily, and am bothered with indigestion. Do you think that there is anything that can help me?

A. Since several doctors and nerve specialists have said there is nothing wrong with you but nervousness, there is probably no reason why you cannot be restored to health. I presume these physicians meant that you had no organic disease, and that your nervousness consisted in what is known medically as neurasthenia, or nerve weakness. This requires treatment just as any other condition of ill health, and I should advise you to put yourself under the care of one of the nerve specialists you have consulted. You must follow faithfully not only the letter but the spirit of his instructions. A hopeful outlook and earnest spirit of cooperation will do much to hasten your improvement.

Keeping Them Together

BY CHILDREN'S BUREAU U. S. Department of Labor

It is against sound public economy to allow poverty alone to cause the separation of a child from the care of a good mother.

This is the principle back of the mothers' pension system, the administration of which is discussed in a report entitled "The Administration of the Aid-to-Mothers Law in Illinois" recently issued by the United States Department of Labor through the Children's Bureau.

The Illinois statute of 1911 was the first mothers' pension law in the country. At present forty states in the Union have such a law.

The administration of the Illinois law of 1911 was placed with the judges of juvenile courts throughout the state, and very wide discretion was vested in the court. In 1913 the law was radically altered and the authority of the courts was definitely limited. Minor changes have since been made.

During the first year following the enactment of the pension law in Illinois, only sixteen counties outside Cook county made use of it, while by the end of 1920 pensions were being granted in all but twelve of the 102 counties of the state. At the close of the first year of the administration of the original law, there were 327 families on the pension roll of the juvenile court of Cook county representing a monthly expenditure of almost $7,000, while in November, 1919, there were 851 families on the roll with a monthly expenditure more than four times as great as in 1912.

The report gives a detailed account of the administration of the law in Cook county which has set an admirable standard both as to adequacy of pensions and efficiency of administration. The court follows methods standard by good private relief agencies in the investigation that precedes the pension grant and also in the supervision of families after they are placed on the pension roll. Aid is administered in such a way as to encourage the self-respect of the beneficiary, and a relationship of co-operation is established between the pensioned mother and the supervising probation officer.

However, methods of administration are diverse throughout the state, and facts presented in the report point to the conclusion that the principle of local responsibility for administration should be replaced by some measure of state control or standardization. The importance of perfecting the mothers' pension law is strongly emphasized because, the report points out, this system if properly organized and safeguarded may contain the nucleus of a new form of state aid free from the pauperizing effect of the old public charities, and capable of considerable extension, along with actual economy of expenditure.

Bear Stories for Bedtime

HOW THE ANIMALS OF THE NORTH KEEP WARM
By Harvey Elliott

Billy Bear didn't hurry home very fast after his visit to Farmer Smith's yard. The weather was getting pretty warm then, as the summer was just beginning. Billy wears such a thick coat that in warm weather he has to pant with his mouth open if he runs very far.

Now while Billy Bear rests a little, I want to tell you about the clothes some of the animals wear. You have seen the fine furs that the women wear. Perhaps your mother or sister is wearing furs that used to be worn by some fur-bearing animal. About all that most of us know about these furs is that they are beautiful and warm and cost a lot of money.

When God placed our four-footed friends in the northern parts of the country, he also provided them with the kind of clothes that would keep them warm. There were several things to be taken into account in making such clothes.

First—they must be very warm that the animals will not suffer in the coldest weather. Then they must be light. Usually, to have warm clothes, we must have clothes that are heavy. Then these clothes must wear a long time. The animals can't buy a new suit every few months like we can. Then they should be of such a color as will protect them. If they live in a snow region their clothes should be white. Or if their surroundings are gray they could hide better if their clothes were gray. Nature has endowed some animals so that their suit is white in winter and gray in summer. Then these clothes of our northern friends should be thick in cold weather and thin in warm weather.

Now our great Creator had this in mind and provided clothes for the animals exactly suited to the climate in which they are to live. So, for those in the colder climates He has made coats just to fit each animal, coats that are warm, light, durable, thick in cold weather, thin in warm weather, and of a color best adapted for the protection of the animals that wear them.

A garment of this kind is called fur. It consists of a thick, woolly inside coat to keep the creature warm. Then it has a long, soft, shining outside coat to keep it dry. This outside coat is also one made for long and continuous wear.

Isn't it wonderful how the God of nature has provided for all the needs of all the creatures that He has ever made?

IN A CLASS BY HIMSELF

"How did you get on with spelling?"

Harry's mother asked him, after his first day at school. "You look so pleased that I'm sure you did well."

"No's, I couldn't spell much of anything," admitted Harry; "and I couldn't remember the arithmetic very well, nor the geography."

The mother showed her disappointment, but Harry had consolation in reserve.

"But that's no matter, mother," he said; "the boys all like me, and I've got the biggest feet in the class!"—Exchange.
